Queen Victoria of Sweden Died To-day After Long Illness

Entered Country Forty Years Ago From Germany as Nineteen-year-old Bride of Present King, Gustave V; Affectionately Known by Subjects as "Mother of the Land," and "Model Mother."

Canadian Press
Rome, April 4.—Queen Victoria of Sweden, long an invalid, died here to-day.

The Queen, who had been suffering for some time from a complication of pulmonary illness, took a sudden turn for the worse to-day and King Gustave, who had been visiting in Naples, returned to Rome to be at her bedside. The Queen was sixty-eight years old. The death of the Queen was peaceful, the immediate cause being weakening of her heart.

Queen Victoria, who shared the democratic views of her husband, was said to have encouraged him in his refusal to endure any coronation pomp in the ceremony which was to elevate him to the throne. The coronation was almost as simple as the inauguration of a president of the United States. Gustave and his consort forthwith were hailed as the most democratic rulers in Europe.

Sympathetic, charitable and genuinely unselfish, Victoria earned the affectionate titles of "model mother" and "mother of the land." Won through her generosity and nurtured by her incessant charitable work, these sentiments meant more than flattery to the Queen.

BORN IN GERMANY
Sophia Maria Victoria, Queen of Sweden and Princess of Baden, was born in Baden, Germany, August 7, 1862, the only daughter of Grand Duke Frederick of Baden and the Grand Duchess Louise, a daughter of King William I of Prussia, therefore was a first cousin of Emperor William of Germany. As she was a granddaughter of Sophia, Princess of Sweden, her marriage in 1881 to the then Crown Prince Gustave effected a union between the Bernadotte dynasty and the ancient Swedish royal house of Vasa.

PREMIER KING OUTSPOKEN ON UNEMPLOYMENT

Federal Government Without Power to Embark on Relief Social Legislation

No Representations Beyond Telegram From Premier Tolmie, House Told

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Ont., April 4.—The Federal Government is without power to embark upon social legislation like unemployment relief, for the British North America Act invests the provinces with all jurisdiction in matters of this character. This was the attitude taken yesterday afternoon by Premier Mackenzie King, when he spoke in the debate that was precipitated by A. A. Heaps, Labor, Winnipeg North.

The Labor member on Monday moved an amendment to the motion to go into supply, urging that the Government take immediate action to deal with the unemployment situation.

TWO-HOUR SPEECH

The Prime Minister in the course of a two-hour speech to-day outlined the Government's position. He did not believe there existed in Canada at present an emergency which would justify the Federal administration embarking on any programme of unemployment relief or of engaging in any scheme of unemployment insurance. There must always be a certain amount of seasonal slackness in outdoor work during the winter months in Canada. That had always been the case and always would be. He did not feel the Federal Government was called upon to contribute towards something which fell under the jurisdiction of the provinces.

The delegation which met the Government prior to the opening of the present session were referred to Premier King recalled that for the most part these had been drawn from the cities of Western Canada. The municipalities had not been heard from and certain provinces had made no representations at all.

When these things were considered, said the Premier, they indicated how little of a national problem existed in the unemployment situation.

WOULD ABOLISH DEATH PENALTY FOR DESERTERS

Amendment Passes British House of Commons By 219 to 135 Vote

Penalty Would Be Maintained For Treachery Mutiny in Face of Enemy

BY GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent
London, April 4.—An amendment to the army and air force bill, moved by a Labor member, to abolish the death penalty for desertion on active service, was carried in the House of Commons yesterday by a vote of 219 to 135, and one of the most debated questions which arose out of the war-time discipline in the British forces appeared to have been settled. The amendment substituted penal servitude for death in the face of the enemy and was supported, among others, by Oliver Baldwin, Labor member and son of the Conservative leader, the Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin.

The original bill, as introduced by the Government, provided the substitution of penal servitude as the penalty of cowardice, leaving one's post without orders, and occasionally a false alarm while in action. Under the bill the death penalty would be retained for treachery, mutiny and desertion in the face of the enemy. It was this last clause, relating to desertion, which was ruled out by the Labor amendment, moved by Ernest Thurtle, the member for Shoreham.

$2,000,000 a Year Paid In Wages at Cowichan Lake

In the heart of this Island, not more than sixty miles from Victoria, is the Coast's finest source of big Douglas Fir logs.

This Cowichan Lake district is the land of big timber, with its logging crews and railway lines pouring out logs by the million feet to feed the sawmills of Vancouver and the Lower Mainland, as well as the mills of Victoria and those along the Up-Island shores. Cowichan Lake's payroll has now passed the $2,000,000 a year mark.

An idea of the activity around Cowichan Lake will be given in a special, illustrated full-page feature article in the Magazine Section of The Victoria Daily Times.

Other features of to-morrow's Magazine Section will include: Rudy Valle, noted radio star and orchestra leader, tells what he thinks of women and their romantic propensities.

Robert Connell, continuing his explorations in the Sooke area, will tell of where the trail ends opposite Great Bedford Island.

When the foursome returned to the clubhouse just before 1 o'clock, the Governor-General was all smiles. He said that he and Mrs. Patterson had won by two up and one to go.

He congratulated Secretary W. Parry on the condition of the course and expressed his enthusiasm over the beauty of the surroundings. He is one of the honorary patrons of the club.

The members of the Governor-General's staff also played at Colwood this morning.

From the Colwood Club, the party went across to Hatley Park, where they were guests of Mrs. Dunsmuir at luncheon.

EIGHT HURT IN TORONTO CRASH

Automobile Runs Into Workers Leaving Bread Factory

Toronto, Ont., April 4.—Eight persons were injured, one critically, when an automobile struck a group of workers leaving a bread factory and crossing the street on Danforth Avenue here last night.

The driver of the car, Phillip A. Hutchinson, eighteen, was arrested by police and held without bail on a charge of criminal negligence. The injured are:

Mrs. Jessie Haddon, forty-seven, badly lacerated scalp and chest; Mrs. Hilda Haddon, twenty-four, badly bruised and shaken; Elizabeth Haddon, aged ten, bruises and shock; Mrs. Elizabeth Masson, thirty-three, badly cut knee, head injuries and a fractured right forearm; her daughter, Patricia, ten, was bruised and shocked; Mrs. Edith Dowell, forty-two, various minor injuries and possible fractured skull; Stanley Dowell, eleven, had left arm broken. The driver of the car sustained slight injuries. The Dowell family formerly resided in Winnipeg, Man.

According to police the car struck the group as they were crossing the street. Quite a crowd had congregated there waiting for the traffic to thin out so they could cross. The coupé driven by Hutchinson bore down at such a rate the eight injured were unable to get clear.

C.P.R. WILL START NEW FALL WORK

Sum of $600,000 to Be Expended in Reconstructing Roof of Empress Building

With Completion of This Work Company Will Have Spent $4,000,000 Here

Yet another important construction project in connection with the Empress Hotel, involving an expenditure of $600,000, will be inaugurated by the C.P.R. before the end of the day. It was intimated here to-day, that the work will be undertaken in the fall of the year, after the rush of the tourist season is over.

Plans are being prepared at the Montreal offices of the company, it is understood, for the reconstruction of the top floors of the main hotel building and the rebuilding of the roof to make it fireproof and conform to other ways to the construction of the new north wing.

Under this scheme the present slate roofing will be removed and steel framing will be used to carry sections of gypsum fireproof, heatproof and coldproof material, three inches in thickness and similar to that laid under the slating of the wing recently completed.

The proposed work will involve the complete reconstruction of the roof of the main hotel structure, the original north and south wings and the two central towers.

$4,000,000 OUTLAY
With the completion of this phase of its hotel construction work in Victoria the Canadian Pacific Railway will have spent the large figure of $4,000,000 on new buildings and improvements in this city.

The new north wing cost in the neighborhood of $2,500,000 to complete. The power house and steam laundry now under construction, inclusive of machinery, cost $800,000. About $300,000 has been expended in reconstruction work incident to installation of new and modern bathrooms in the north and south wings and general remodeling operations throughout the hotel, particularly on the lower floor, and the new conservatory one of the most notable of the new additions.

LIQUOR BILL PROGRESSES IN SENATE

Conservative Amendment For Special Investigation Lost on Division

Measure Aims to Stop Smuggling From Canada to U.S.

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 4.—The bill to amend the Export Act, which provides for prohibition of clearance to liquor shipments destined for the United States, received second reading in the Senate last night. There was no vote.

The Conservative amendment, which asked for a committee to consider the bill had previously been declared lost "on division."

Senator G. D. Robertson supported the Conservative amendment, which would refer the bill to a special committee for investigation and consideration. He thought it was highly desirable that responsible officers of the department of internal revenue and justice who were familiar with the different phases of the liquor export movement, should be available. This could be the case only if a committee was given charge of the bill.

NEW U.S. LINE OF FIVE SHIPS FOR ORIENTAL BUSINESS

Portland, April 4.—Ralph E. Williams, Portland, vice-chairman of the Republican National Committee, said upon his arrival here to-day from Washington, D.C., that within a month an announcement would be made of a new shipping line from the Pacific coast to the Orient, entailing the construction of five ships at a cost of $30,000,000.

The ships, which will be the last of the three new 6,000 ton passenger boats to be delivered by the builders, will arrive here late this summer and it would not be policy to operate the two vessels in the fall and winter months.

FAST SCHEDULE
The Prince David will maintain a schedule that has never been previously attempted in order to cut down the time between the three key ports of this section of the coast. With the new line the service would be second to none, Mr. Creelman said.

Australia Gives List Of Prohibited Articles

Eight Commodities Forbidden Entry Absolutely and Fifty Per Cent Super Tax Applies on Many Luxuries.

Sydney, N.S.W., April 4.—The government's new super-tax tariff and prohibition of importations has brought a widespread sensation. General opinion is that it will adjust quickly the unsatisfactory overseas trade position, although considerably increasing unemployment in the distributing trades.

Canberra, Aus., April 4.—The government to-day published its list of prohibitions of "luxuries," the nature of which was given yesterday by Premier Scullin, who announced a fifty per cent super-tax on many importations.

About eight commodities are forbidden absolutely. They include: Cheese, lemons, oranges, dried fruits, except dates and figs, corn flour, lard, liquid and preserved pork, coconut nut, peanut butter, furs, skins, dates and figs, corn flour, lard, barbed wire, cultivators (except hand-worked harrows), stump jump plows, drills, reapers, threshers, harvesters, horse-drawn hayrakes, chain cutters, scarifiers, petrol pumps, electric and gas heaters, wireless sets, aluminum ware (except spoons and forks), glue, cast-iron pipes and fittings, and iron and steel beams.

The following are rationed under the provisions of the prohibitions of fifty per cent of last year's imports: Manufactured tobacco, cigarettes, snuff, and locomotives. About twelve others are similarly rationed, and also subjected to the fifty per cent super-tax. These for the most part are matches and spirituous liquors.

R. Creelman, C.N.R. Traffic Passenger Manager, Anticipates Good Coast Season

Ss. Prince Robert Will Join Prince David on Tri-city Route Next Year

With the delivery of the new ships now building for the company in England the Canadian National Steamships will be in a position to give Victoria exceptionally fine connections with the mainland, R. Creelman, traffic passenger manager of the Canadian National Railways, who is here from Winnipeg, stated to-day.

While the new C.N.R. service will be inaugurated in July of this year by the steamer Prince David, operating on a fast schedule, the addition of the sister ship Prince Robert to the tri-city service would not become effective until the spring of 1931, as the latter vessel would not be out here in time to actively participate in the summer tourist business, said Mr. Creelman.

The Prince Robert, which will be the last of the three new 6,000 ton passenger boats to be delivered by the builders, will arrive here late this summer and it would not be policy to operate the two vessels in the fall and winter months.

Three Power Pact Only Anticipated From Discussions

Help of League of Nations Looked for to Ultimately Put Through General Disarmament Scheme as Hope Falls Through Italian Parity Stand; Delegates Make Plans for Departure From London.

London, April 4.—Signings of a three-power pact by the United States, Great Britain and Japan and quick adjournment of the naval conference was seen in an authoritative quarter late to-day to be quite possible. This would involve leaving the knotty questions of French security and Franco-Italian parity to be signed in other fields, and would provide that France and Italy would be in a position to sign as soon as these difficulties have been ironed out.

The United States naval delegation this afternoon tentatively engaged reservations to return home on the Leviathan April 22.

It was stated at United States headquarters that this day was regarded as the limit to which the conference would meet. It also was authoritatively stated that the delegations feel the conference must be brought to a close within a comparatively short time.

Paris, April 4.—The barometer of hope by French circles in the London Naval Conference was down again to-day in consequence of the Italian parity impasse and the conviction that the United States never would adhere to any security pact satisfactory to France.

The satisfaction felt that things had been taken in hand with a view to reaching an early accord has given place to expression of deep pessimism.

The only hope understood to be held seriously in French circles is a three-power pact may be agreed upon and that this will ultimately help, along with the efforts of the League of Nations, to put through a general disarmament scheme.

It had been declared heavy pressure of departmental duties necessitated his return to the Dominion.

London, April 4.—The Hon. J. L. Ralston, chief Canadian delegate to the Naval Conference, has cancelled his departure for Canada.

He was to have returned to the Dominion on the steamer Scythia, leaving London to-morrow, and it was announced Hon. Phillippe Roy, Canadian Minister to France, would replace him at the Naval Conference.

The reason for the change in plans was not known.

SASKATCHEWAN ASKS RETURN OF RESOURCES

Legislature Approves Bill Ratifying Provincial-Federal Agreement

Regina, Sask., April 4.—Unanimously the Legislature last night voted to give second reading to the bill ratifying the agreement between the Provincial and Federal Governments for the return of Saskatchewan's natural resources. The two Progressive members who had announced their intention the previous day of opposing the bill were not in their places when the question was put. There was no recorded vote.

The first intimation that the situation had undergone a radical change from Wednesday when a crucial division appeared likely, came in the closing phase of the debate. J. G. Gardiner, leader of the opposition and former Premier, said that the only reasonable course in his opinion was to allow second reading now, with the hope that the government would supply in committee much information so far withheld, and which he felt the members ought to have before making a final decision. They had always the opportunity of further action on third reading of the bill.

Information concerning the transfer of the resources, likely cost of administration and expected revenues, and as to administration during the transition period, should be given the House in the coming session. He hoped it would be forthcoming in committee.

NO EVIDENCE OF LIQUOR ON BOAT IN RUM FIGHT

Man in Windsor Hospital Seriously Ill After Detroit River Shooting

Windsor, Ont., April 4.—Steve Jurack, twenty-four, of Ecorse, is in Grace Hospital here in a serious condition as a result of being shot while trying to escape from the United States coastguard about midnight. His wounds are in the right shoulder and jaw, practically the entire jaw being shot away. When Jurack landed his boat at one of the export docks in La Salle it was on fire. The windshield being shot away, the bullet holes were found in the hull of the craft. Weakened from loss of blood, the man was rushed to the hospital and at 1:30 this morning his condition was reported as very serious.

Reports that there was shooting on lower Detroit River had been received earlier by police. Jurack was hanging over the side of the boat as it crashed into the dock.

No arms were found in the boat. Jurack was destroyed by the fire later. Officers also said that there was evidence that the craft had contained liquor.

Call loans held outside the Dominion dropped $11,138,037, according to the monthly statement issued yesterday through the Department of Finance. On the closing day of February the total call loans outside the Dominion was $200,612,553. On January 31 this total was $211,750,590.

J. J. Warren Makes Report on Activities of Smelters in B.C.

In view of the many developments which have been announced during the past year by the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada Limited, the annual remarks of the president, J. J. Warren, are particularly interesting. The president's words accompany the annual financial statement, which has just reached Victoria.

Mr. Warren deals with the various phases of the company's activities and its properties. In this connection he confirms the purchase of a site in eastern Canada for the construction of a zinc reduction plant. Of the Big Missouri mine in British Columbia, Mr. Warren says it is the most promising prospect under development.

He announces plans for an issue of additional stock with "rights" to shareholders. In that connection he says:

"In order to preserve your strong treasury position, which would be weakened somewhat otherwise by your heavy outlay in connection with the fertilizer plants, your directors favor making a stock issue of one share for every twenty shares now outstanding. While under the statute and your by-laws your directors have power to do this on their own initiative, they propose to ask your sanction at the annual meeting of such action as they may decide to take in this connection."

Terms of the issue will not be announced until the day of the annual meeting, April 11.

Mr. Warren says further:

"In step with the closing operations of your company and in recognition of their efficient services, your directors appointed, effective January 1, 1930, W. M. Archibald, vice-president in charge of mines; R. W. Bay, vice-president in charge of finance; and W. S. Rugh, vice-president in charge of sales. In this connection you will be asked to ratify a slight amendment to the by-laws."

"You will be asked to ratify, too, a by-law (No. 133) of the board increasing the number of directors from eleven to fourteen. It is thought desirable to increase the number of directors in British Columbia to have a larger representation on the board from that province. Subject to your ratification an invitation to join the board has been extended to the Hon. R. R. Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia; A. C. Flumet of Victoria; and Blake Wilson of Vancouver, and these gentlemen have accepted."

"Production was well maintained during the year as follows: Lead, 300,433,924 pounds; copper, 8,346,832 pounds; gold, 14,694 ounces; zinc, 173,986,841 pounds; cadmium, 773,978 pounds; silver, 7,362,154 ounces.

"Comparative figures for 1929 are: Lead, 318,831,578 pounds; copper, 17,000,306 pounds; gold, 23,623 ounces; zinc, 163,830,862 pounds; cadmium, 891,894 pounds; silver, 7,673,762 ounces.

"The production of blismuth on a commercial scale began during the year. Your sulphuric acid product is finding a market.

"The prices of base metals and silver dropped during the year, especially in the last quarter. There have been further decreases since the turn of the year. It is difficult to forecast the future, but there does not seem to be much chance of appreciation during the current year. Unless consumption increases, production is reduced. At all events, until the high cost producers are eliminated.

"Fortunately, your costs of production are enough to enable your operations to continue with sufficient profits to permit the full distribution of dividends and bonuses.

"Your plants have been well maintained and are in condition to turn out your production at a minimum cost.

"Developments at the Coast Copper property indicate that there is sufficient tonnage to warrant the providing of transportation facilities and the installation of a concentrating plant.

"Your company's position in regard to this property is that your treasury holds 122,505 shares of the total issue of 200,000 shares, and $722,000 bonds of total issue of $750,000. In addition, you have advanced $87,000 for development work. Interest is not included in these sums.

"Exploratory work at the Big Missouri indicates the presence of considerable quantities of ore of commercial grade over mineable widths. Further work must be done, however, before the extent of the ore deposits can be definitely gauged and a policy for the permanent equipment of the property determined. It is probable that a small concentrating plant will be installed this year in order to sample the ore bodies accurately, as hand sampling cannot be relied on because of the more or less erratic deposition of the metals.

"This property is one of the most promising prospects now under development.

"Your company's position in regard to this property is that your treasury holds 53 per cent of the capital of the Buena Vista Company Limited (a British Columbia corporation), to which company the original Big Missouri Company (a State of Washington corporation) conveyed the Big Missouri group of claims near Stewart, British Columbia. The remaining 47 per cent of the capital of the Buena Vista Company is in the treasury of the original Big Missouri Company which is developing various other properties in the United States.

"Your company has advanced the Buena Vista Company $127,000 for which bonds of that company are being issued in your favor.

"The lead-zinc ore deposits in the properties of the Northern Lead-zinc Company (in which company you have a minority interest) on Great Slave Lake, are being actively developed.

"In addition you have a 40 per cent interest in an exploration syndicate which has located a large number of adjacent claims, and has acquired leases on some oil-bearing prospects. These adjacent claims will be developed this year and the oil prospects will be drilled.

"As a precautionary measure the Standard group on mineral claims adjoining your Sullivan properties, was purchased for $115,000.

"The option to purchase 1,390,000 shares of the George Copper Company was exercised, and you have their shares in your treasury. The total issue is 1,500,000 shares.

"Your Sullivan Mine continues to develop favorably. Notwithstanding heavy extraction current development has maintained the quantity of your ore reserves.

"Further large-scale experiments and demonstrations were made on the Canadian side with superphosphate, with quite successful results, except where weather conditions ruined the crop.

"Still further and larger demonstrations will be made during the coming season in anticipation of distribution of your fertilizer products in 1931.

"A favorable contract has been entered into which the Montecatini Company of Italy for the use of the Fausse process in making ammonia.

"Your directors have authorized the construction of an additional sulphuric acid plant with a daily capacity of 335 tons, and the first unit of an ammonia plant with a daily capacity of 47 tons, at an estimated cost of $7,500,000.

"Besides producing fertilizer, the consumption of the sulphur dioxide in the Fausse process will be very substantially reduced, if it does not completely eliminate any real smoke damage from the operation of your smelting plants.

"Plans for further by-product plants are under consideration.

"Hand in hand with the expansion in your operations, the West Kootenay Power and Light Company Limited continues to increase the development of hydro-electric energy.

"Fifteen years ago the power company had less than 30,000 horsepower developed, all of which was not in use. Now, with a development of 170,000 horsepower, it is not able at times to supply the needs of your company.

"The construction and operation of the power company's plants reflects much credit on L. A. Campbell, vice-president and general manager, and his staff.

EASTERN COPPER REFINERY

"After much negotiation and consideration, your directors decided it would be in your interests to join with Ventures Limited in securing an interest in the large copper refinery being constructed at Sudbury by the International Nickel Company and the American Metal Company, rather than build and operate a small plant in the same territory. As a 1 per cent interest has been acquired by your company, carrying with it some advantages in connection with the marketing in Canada of the copper of a copper smelter and refinery.

"Negotiations are still going on in regard to building a zinc reduction works in eastern Canada. A desirable site has been secured. It is hoped that other eastern producers of zinc concentrates will join with Ventures Limited and your company in the enterprise.

"Development of your copper properties tributary to British Columbia tidewater has not yet produced enough copper ore to justify the construction of a copper smelter and refinery.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURE

"Capital expenditure amounted to $6,121,183.19, as compared with $5,695,614.20 in 1929. $2,115,735.19 was spent on property account and $4,005,448 on plant account. In 1929, $2,398,448 was spent on property account and $1,307,601.53 on plant account.

PROBING DEATH OF DIPLOMAT

Body of Basil Miles, U.S.
Economist, May Be Exhumed

Canadian Press
Washington, April 4.—A report that a woman of high social standing in Washington had visited Basil Miles, diplomat and economist, shortly before he died on June 14, 1928, arose Wednesday in the investigation the Justice Department is making into the circumstances of his death.

The woman, who probably will be called for questioning, was said to have left the room shortly before Miles's wife entered it. His wife was described as having been in the room when he died. Mrs. Miles is the former wife of Colonel Henry H. Rogers, Standard Oil millionaire.

MAY EXHUME BODY
Assistant District Attorney Neil Burkinshaw, who is directing the investigation, was considering having the body of Miles exhumed.

Miles was operated on by a prominent surgeon on June 4, and ten days later had so far recovered that his physician left Washington. While the resident physician at the hospital was attending another patient that afternoon he was attracted to the corridor by a woman's scream. Mrs. Miles told him her husband was dying.

When the physician reached the room Miles was dead. The death was attributed to pulmonary embolism, or a blood clot on the lung.

Miles was born in Philadelphia in 1877 and began his work with the government in 1905 as a secretary of the American Embassy in Russia. Later he was associated with the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and in 1917 accompanied the Root mission to Russia. Subsequently he took over the Department of Russian Affairs in the State Department.

Seattle, April 4.—Seattle's latest woman robber was believed active again yesterday with robbery of A. E. Bader at his grocery store in the outskirts of the downtown district of the city to-day. Vancouver, April 4.—Construction and improvement work costing more than $1,000,000 will be undertaken on the Kettle Valley Railway line this season, it is announced by D. C. Coleman, president of the Kettle Valley line.

This estimate includes replacement of or repairs to twenty-two bridges on the Carleton and Princeton subdivisions, relaying of several miles of track and installation of culverts.

Sebring, Fla., April 4.—State's Attorney Grady Burton to-day ordered a coroner's jury to reconvene immediately for further investigation of the slaying of Mrs. Wm. R. Carver, her young son, Lee, and Ben Whitehead, a negro servant. William R. Carver, her husband, former Philadelphia real estate operator, was arrested yesterday and held for questioning after telling authorities he killed Whitehead, and he said, had slain his wife and child.

Carver was arrested yesterday after officers learned that he was beneficiary in a $10,000 insurance policy of Mrs. Carver, taken out last December.

States Attorney Grady Burton ordered the arrest.

Sherriff Oscar Wolf said stains resembling blood had been found on a pair of Carver's golf trousers. He also said that an examination of the body of Whitehead failed to disclose any blood other than what appeared to have come from his own wounds.

STORY OF ROBBERY
Testimony at the coroner's inquest said the Carvers were enjoying their regular meals when Mrs. Carver was awakened by a noise in her room. She cried out when she saw the negro at the dressing table filling his pockets with her jewelry. Carver, it was testified, was in an adjoining room and rushed to his wife just in time to see the negro tell her with an axe. While he picked up his pistol, the coroner was told, the negro killed the child with the axe. Carver fired four shots into the negro, reloading his gun and fired twice more.

Carver recently moved here from Philadelphia, where he had been in the real estate business. His father, Samuel Carver, a steel manufacturer and real estate dealer, came here from his winter home in Miami when he learned of the tragedy.

AUSTRALIAN TAX AFFECTS CANADA

Dominion's Export of Auto-

931,860 Last Year

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Ont., April 4.—With the exception of automobiles, Canada supplies very few luxuries to Australia, which will be affected by the proposed super-tax announced yesterday by Premier Scullin of Australia. The majority of Canadian exports to the Commonwealth consist of food products, lumber and other goods unobtainable in that country and which cannot be classed as luxuries.

Canada's export of automobiles to Australia, however, amounted to $5,931,860 last year and automobile parts to $2,573. Other Canadian exports to Australia which come under the proposed super-tax with their value in 1929 are as follows: Felt manufactures, $47,268; silk, $15,362; corsets and brassieres, $35,330; other textiles, $12,585; rubber boots and shoes, $56,799; gramophones, $9,931, and paints, $8,248.

Survey of Federal Service Requested

Ottawa, April 4.—A large delegation representing the Civil Service Federation of Canada waited upon Hon. Fernand Rinfret, Secretary of State, yesterday and urged the government to establish a commission, similar to the Beatty commission, to further enquire into the entire public service with a view to salary adjustments so that the present rates will be brought to standard.

The delegation stressed that there should be no change in the method of promotions. "We would respectfully urge that no change in the promotional system be made which would eliminate the competitive principle so necessary to efficiency and contentment throughout the service," the memorandum stated.

HOW TO INCREASE TRADE

BEFORE THE BRITISH COLUMBIA

Division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association on Wednesday night, Mr. J. H. McDonald, chairman of the lumbermen's delegation which recently returned from a tour of the Antipodean Dominions, made a number of statements and suggestions which no doubt will have a considerable bearing upon Canada's future trade with Australia and New Zealand.

From statistics which Mr. McDonald quoted, together with general observations relating to the manner in which he and his fellow delegates were received in the southern Dominions, it would seem clear that there is a much greater opportunity for trade development with these two British countries in the Pacific than is reflected in the growth of business which has marked the exchange in the last few years. To take full advantage of the opportunities that offer, however, Mr. McDonald says Canada must take a broad view of the situation. One of his statements was this: "If the same wide trading agreement existed between Australia and Canada as with New Zealand and Canada, we would have sold Australia during 1929 goods worth a total of $84,371,322, instead of $19,470,305." These are the suggestions which will be submitted to the Dominion government at a private interview in Ottawa shortly:

1. The calling of an economic conference among British countries of the Pacific.
2. Development to the full of merchandising possibilities for Australian and New Zealand products in Canada as well as Canadian products in the south.
3. Extension of wider preference to Australia on the basis of the Canadian-New Zealand agreement.
4. Cessation of the alleged institution of dumping duties on preferred Australian products under the trade treaty in direct violation of its provisions.
5. The continuance and increase of the subsidy of the Dominion Government to lumber carriers between here and New Zealand.
6. The necessity of ending political attacks on "trade treaties to which we have set our seal as a nation."

The Department of Trade and Commerce at Ottawa has shown by its frequent advertisements in the newspapers of the country that it is alive to the necessity of developing new markets for the products of Canadian farms and Canadian factories. It is increasing its corps of business scouts with this objective. It is a policy obviously dictated by the all-important fact that our productive capacity is growing at a much more rapid rate than our capacity to absorb. Hence, it will be all to the good if we pursue a course that will give our products a better footing in those markets within the empire at present dominated by foreign countries.

In this regard it is worth while comparing our exports to Australia in 1927 and 1928 with the value of the goods the United States sold to that Dominion in the same period: Our total sales for the two years reached $33,058,319; the neighboring republic's total sales amounted to no less than $316,150,000. Here we get a striking idea of what may be done to replace the Canadian for the United States product in the Australian market, providing this country goes the right way about it.

THE ODD MR. CAPONE

ACCORDING TO MR. BRUCE CATTON, a well-known Cleveland commentator, whatever else may be said about it, American civilization of the year 1930 at least furnishes plenty of interesting spectacles.

Not the least among these, during the past month, observes Mr. Catton, has been the return of Al Capone to his native land.

Capone spent ten months in a Philadelphia jail. Finally, on a bright spring day, he was released. Instantly the attention of the nation was focused on him. He vanished from sight; one would have thought the heir to the British throne was missing. He was reported in Chicago, in Indiana, in Florida and on the high seas. The public could hardly stand it.

Then, after days of almost unendurable suspense, the great man appeared. Straight into the office of the commissioner of detectives in Chicago he stalked, to draw up a chair and hold a lengthy discussion behind closed doors, while the nation waited with bated breath.

It was a peculiar spectacle, writes Mr. Catton. In the anteroom, gazing rapily at the glazed door, was the armed might of Chicago, as personified in the sturdy forms of two dozen or more detectives mingled among them were reporters and photographers, in equal number. Breath continued bated.

There was a low hum of conversation, but it never lasted long. Someone would look up at the door; others would notice, and all glances would fix on the same objective. And, finally, he appeared. Except for the booming of flashlights, the audience was silent, almost respectful.

Out he went, flanked by two lawyers, to enter an automobile and whirl away. There was something about it all reminiscent of the departure of a presidential candidate from his campaign headquarters, except that there was no cheering.

All of this, of course, derives its special interest from the fact that the centre of all of this fuss is—unless everybody is mistaken—one of the greatest criminals ever harbored on the American continent.

The doctor who found a cure for diabetes could come and go without causing a single head to be turned. No living poet could hope, by the mere fact of his arrival in town, to get front-page newspaper space. Photographers do not go out in droves to photograph great scientists or humanitarians.

But Al Capone is one of that select band whose every move is news; a member of a small group which includes movie stars, professional athletes, criminals, and—now and then—real public servants.

You can draw your own moral from all of this, if you like. Anyhow, you must admit that it has all been very absorbing.

CONFERENCES AND PEACE

VISCOUNT WILLINGDON MAY BE right when he says very little of a practical nature has been accomplished in behalf of peace at the various post-war conferences, and that it will be necessary to "educate our people to the will for peace."

There is, however, a good deal to be said for the conference idea, even though some of the discussions which have taken place have savored a little too much of the academic and not enough of the practical. Such round-table debates as the statesmen of the leading nations have conducted have established the useful principle of frank discussion by which the public has been kept informed of matters about which in former years they heard very little. Many of the wars of the past had to be fought because the public was kept in ignorance of what was going on behind the scenes. A few cabinet ministers held the authority to do what they thought best, and in not a few cases it was discovered too late that an informed public opinion would have shown them a different and less costly way of meeting the difficulties they tried to settle.

The educational process of which the Governor-General spoke yesterday, moreover, has been commenced through the publicity given to the conferences that already have taken place since the last war. At no time in the history of the world has the cause of peace held the attention of the public as it is holding it at the present time. It is something new in international politics; but all will agree with Viscount Willingdon when he implies that it will be just as necessary to teach peace to prevent war as it is necessary to teach anything else in which proficiency is desired.

As the Governor-General quite rightly told his audience yesterday, there is no country which could set such a fine example in this matter as this country of ours. For more than a hundred years Canada has lived peacefully alongside one of the most powerful nations in the world. There have been disputes between them. But they have been disposed of in an atmosphere of peaceful negotiation. An unguarded border of over 5,000 miles—including the Canada-Alaska boundary—is mute evidence of two peoples well educated in the principles and economics of peace.

PITTSBURGH'S "REPUTATION" GONE

PITTSBURGH ONCE MADE THE BOAST that it was the smokeless city in the world, and has never retracted. But an investigator sent out to that city by the Federation of British Industries expresses himself as "bitterly disappointed" because it is really immune from the smoke nuisance as it is known in Lancashire and in other industrial areas of Britain.

Grit does not fall all day long in Pittsburgh, like the gentle rain from heaven, on the just and unjust. The Manchester Guardian reminds British authorities wrestling with smoke problems, primarily because no one uses open fires or burns bituminous coal.

Not satisfied with these initial advantages, the no-smoke experts have carefully rationed out the time so that in some towns in Massachusetts two five-minute periods of black smoke only are allowed each day, and in Pittsburgh itself no chimney may emit more than a certified amount except for an aggregate of two minutes in any fifteen. In New York, they are stricter, and ships standing in dock are constantly watched, pounced upon, and sometimes fined for exceeding the smoking limit.

As for Chicago, manslaughter seems to be a safer crime than failing to obey the no-smoking laws.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

PROHIBITION AND PROSPERITY
The New York Herald-Tribune

France, despite the hideous wounds and strains she suffered in the War, despite the loss of her large export wine-trade with this country and the depreciation of her currency, is to-day one of the most prosperous countries in the world. Yet she has entirely missed the blessings of prohibition. The explanation lies, of course, in the character of her people. And similarly in our case. If prohibition brought prosperity the Mahometans would own the earth.

FRANCE AND DISARMAMENT
The Ottawa Daily

France is above suspicion and nobody can throw doubt on her sincerity. She wishes for peace and has made immense sacrifices to gain it. She has made great reductions in her naval armaments and her land forces; she has accepted the Washington Convention, she has signed the Locarno Treaty and the Kellogg Pact, and she has granted all sorts of concessions to Germany. What more can one demand of her, except to strip herself of all defence against a new invasion?

AS AN INSTRUMENT OF POLICY
The Publishers' Service

During the war just outside one of the air service posts a farmer had a large field of corn, in the centre of which was a patch of very delicious melons. The corn made great shelter for raiding parties. The owner realized he was having an abnormal shrinkage in his crop of melons, and besides knowing definitely the sizes of the shoes of the raiders, he knew about who were making the imprints. But, also knowing that were service men, he refrained generously from action, feeling that it was obvious to visitors that he could stop it but that his attitude was appreciated. However, boasts of the raiders were brought back to the owner—boasts to the effect of the cleverness of the melon-hounds and the apparent stupidity of the owner. The result was a sign on the fence, reading: "I knowed who was takin' my melons. From now on keep out a here. I got too mean mongrel dogs and my shotgun ain't going to be loaded with soft pills."

A THOUGHT

All is vanity and vexation of spirit.—Ecclesiastes 1:14.
All men are selfish, but the vain man is in love with himself. He admires, like the lover his adored one, everything which to others is indifferent.—Auerbach.

Loose Ends

There are good reasons why this column should not be written at all to-day—the census experts foresee the doom of our rag by an inglorious decline—and Miss Murray launches a great movement.

By H. B. W.

THESE ARE the hardest days of the whole year for writing a column like this, and for that same reason they are probably the hardest for reading it, too. Who wants to write anything or read anything, either, on these bright April days? At such times as these any man who is a man at all feels a sudden urge to leave his desk and rush shouting into the air, and it is an acute form of torture to sit at an open window and try to concentrate the remnants of a mind on anything.

OUTSIDE MY own particular window now are many things which would doom any column before it got started. There is a great and ancient plum tree, for instance, which is in the very act of bursting into a billowy waving catenae of white bloom, and beneath it a wild current bush, dripping with scarlet flowers. There are seven great yellow daffodils in a little group under a giant oak and they nod at you in the wind impudently, knowing full well that you are condemned to stay inside and enlighten the unhappy public. There is a little patch, a yard square, of pink dogtooth violets, whose bulbs I brought from beside a stream which empties into Cowichan Lake, and five yellow blossoms of the same family which I dug up with a pen-knife high up in the Rockies, an inch or two from receding snow.

IN THE field under old George Puddy is a marching band of team of bay horses and a drag harrow and, since it is not his field, is taking his time over it. Incidentally, I perceive that he is wearing a resplendent new pair of blue overalls, the first garment he has bought since the war, which set him up in clothing for 12 years. The Dutchman who owns the right has an afternoon off to-day from the barber shop where he works and is enthusiastically scattering lime on the ground, most of which is blown back by the wind and seems to attach itself to him until he is white from head to foot. Across the road a young man is digging up a garden and planting it with peculiar zest, for he is about to get married and occupy the little cottage nearby. Next year he may not be so enthusiastic about it. Another lad is digging a ditch, but he is not going to be married, and there is no heart in his work. After every show of earth he leans on his shovel and goes longingly out across the valley to the Sooke Hills. And I don't blame him. Why should anyone have to dig a ditch or write a column in these first days of spring?

THOUGH THEY have been generally overlooked, like most things that matter, some highly important statistics have just been compiled by the United States census director and experts working under him. They seem to explode a theory and an expectation held all over this continent, and in most places outside it, in this way: For a long time the world has been accustomed to look upon the United States as only at the beginning of its growth in population. To imagine that in a hundred years or so, at the present rate of increase, it would have a population of several hundred millions and, possibly, some day, a billion. This, on the face of it, seems inevitable when you regard the present rate of growth, as revealed by the census figures of the last half century. Actually, however, the census experts, nothing of the sort is going to happen. On the contrary, the United States population will reach a point around 160,000,000, and there it will stop permanently, unless a sudden new influx of immigrants is allowed.

THE DETAILS of this mighty calculation involve more figures than can be quoted here, but, in a word, the experts explain that the birth rate of the United States is declining in converse ratio to the increase in the population. "It appears unlikely that the United States will ever have more than 160,000,000 people unless the number of births or of immigrants increases," said a spokesman of the census directory. The tendency now, of course, is to reduce immigration, and the birth rate continues to drop, so that in the end it is quite obvious that North American civilization ultimately will reach its highest numerical total and then drop.

IN THE end it appears inevitable that the United States population, a few centuries hence, will begin to decline and over a long period, according to the strict laws of mathematics, must disappear altogether. If this continent's manner of living spreads over the world, as seems likely, and other nations reach the American plane of civilization, they cannot avoid the conclusion that in the course of time the human race will gradually disappear, because it can't be bothered bringing up children. Probably no one would miss us much, but it seems a rather inglorious exit.

MAX MURRAY, one of the motion picture mummies, has just started a suit in the Superior Court of Los Angeles which promises results for the mummy trade of civilization. He is suing a producer of a picture on the ground that its lack of skill in making one of her pictures injured her reputation to the extent of that sum.

For my own protection, I would like to understand that I was not approached or consulted on the matter, although a member of that body. It is pretty hard to advocate 50 loaf when flour price will not permit it.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

The Victoria Daily Times, April 4, 1905

The committee investigating in the issue of crown grants to lands about Kitimaat began its labors this morning, with A. H. B. Macgowan presiding and J. R. Brown, secretary. This is in pursuance with the resolution introduced by John Oliver yesterday, which passed the House.

Weather Forecast—Victoria and Vicinity—Winds, chiefly easterly, partly cloudy and mild, with showers to-night or Wednesday.

When the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's Alaskan liner, City of Topeka, leaves the ways of the B.C. Marine Railway, Esquimalt, she will be in appearance a new boat. The changes made on the ship will have completely altered her upper works.

To-day the D.G.S. Quads entered commission, with Captain Hackett in command. She will leave for the north on a trip to the lighthouses and beacons on Wednesday or Thursday next, and from that time on will be kept very busy.

At a meeting of the committee of management of the Victoria Day celebration held last evening at the City Hall the programme of the forthcoming carnival was discussed at length. A number of special features were suggested which, if successfully carried out, will make the celebration one long to be remembered.

JOBLESS PARADE AT EDMONTON

Edmonton, April 4.—Unemployed numbering about 700, some of them wearing red handkerchiefs which they displayed prominently from their pockets, paraded to the Legislative Buildings again yesterday afternoon and waited while a delegation interviewed Labor members of the assembly in the building. A straggling collection of 100 returned in the evening, attempted to gain entrance to the building, but were turned back at the door where policemen allowed only members to enter. The parade was orderly with the exception of the pulling of car trolleys. Police escorted the marchers from the Market Square, to the buildings and return.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Wheeler returned on Wednesday after spending four months in California.

V. E. L. Goddard of Victoria on Tuesday resumed duty with the Canadian Customs at this port.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Ellis, Amelia Avenue, left on Tuesday to reside in Victoria. Mr. and Mrs. H. Wadams, East Road, left on Monday for Sooke, where they will reside.

Sometimes in a Mother's Life

A great question arises. What shall she feed her children? She knows they must have milk—but in what form? The answer, as found by thousands of happy mothers, is Nestlé's Evaporated Milk.

And here's the Reason! Nestlé's Evaporated Milk is just the best of fresh cow's milk with part of the water removed—then sealed and sterilized in air-tight containers. Add water again and you have absolutely pure, safe milk—but more readily digestible than ordinary milk because the large fat globules of the milk have been broken up into small ones of the same size as in Mother's milk. Also, the curds which form in the stomach when Nestlé's Evaporated Milk is used are soft and flaky and therefore easily digestible.

Use Nestlé's Evaporated Milk for Your Baby. Use it in coffee—in cocoa—in tea. Use it in all cooking and as a beverage by diluting with one to two parts water.

ORGANIZED PLAY BOOK COMPILED

Copies of Booklet Available From Local Social Service League

In view of the immense importance of organized sport in the life of the child, the education and recreation division of the Montreal Council of Social Agencies offered to prepare and distribute a booklet giving details and methods of conducting recreational and social games. Their offer was accepted by the Canadian Council on Child Welfare through its section on recreation, and copies may now be secured from the local Social Service League. This booklet contains valuable information for the conducting of recreational training courses, and assists in stimulating interest in the organization of wholesome play. It has met with a gratifying response and many requests, mostly from rural districts, have come in from all parts of the country. Plans are maturing, at present, for the provision of recreational field service under the auspices of the council until the time when it will be possible to create a separate national recreation association.

The need, throughout the country and especially in rural districts, for technical and general information on the administration and organization of a well balanced and supervised play programme is very apparent and provision, on a national basis for the distribution of literature and technical field service, will make for appreciable progress.

PEACE AREA IS DAIRY COUNTRY

Department of Agriculture to Send Herds of Cattle to North B.C.

Plans for developing the Peace River district of British Columbia into an important dairy country have been launched by the Department of Agriculture.

Under arrangements announced here to-day Hon. William Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture, now on the prairies, will tentatively select substantial herds of purebred cattle, which will be sent to the Peace River, and sold to the settlers there on easy terms over a long period.

This important scheme is made possible under the legislation passed by the Legislature recently at Mr. Atkinson's request. He is empowered by this means to sell cattle to settlers through the Land Settlement Board, and finance the transactions on the credit of the government.

A creamery at Pouce Coupe makes possible a large expansion in the butter output as soon as dairy herds are built up. To wait for the natural increase of the present herds would be to hold up development of the country seriously, Mr. Atkinson believes.

The Peace River settlers have asked for some 300 milk cows, but probably the Department of Agriculture will not care to ship so many at first. About half that number likely will be supplied for the present.

After Mr. Atkinson has investigated available supplies of dairy animals on the prairies, experts of his department will be sent there to choose the individual animals, which will be shipped north in the next few weeks.

VIVISECTION IS DENOUNCED

Speaker at Anniversary Meeting of Society Vigorous in Statements

The Anti-vivisection Society held its ninth anniversary meeting in the New Thought Temple yesterday evening. David Leeming, who presided, made a presentation of flowers to Miss Dora Kitto, secretary of the society, as an appreciation of her work in the interests of the anti-vivisection movement.

Dr. Ernest Forster of Vancouver, was the principal speaker, making a vigorous denunciation of vivisectionists and pathologists.

"Vivisection," he declared, "is the greatest curse afflicting humanity and a blot upon civilization. The gifts of the vivisectionists and pathologists to medicine and surgery are absolutely negative."

Vivisectionists were men who liked to practice cruelty, the speaker declared. They enjoyed the sight of living things squirming in pain. Such human beings were possessed of an unholier spirit.

Pathologists were almost as bad, he continued. They had no real interest in humanity, but were only interested in disease. No real cures had been traced to pathology, and it was much overrated.

Man was no more important than a guinea pig in the makeup of the universe, so why should one worry about trying to live an extra year or two by cutting up living animals, he asked.

Animals looked to man for protection. The much-valued brotherhood of man should extend to the lower animals and vivisection be abolished, he concluded.

MANSLAUGHTER IS FINDING OF TRIAL JURY

Henry Plater Remanded For Sentence Until Close of Assizes

Jury Brings Verdict of Guilty With Recommendation to Mercy

Henry Plater, twenty-year-old youth, charged with manslaughter following the death of Mrs. Martha Davis, in a car accident on the East Saanich Road on January 9, was convicted by a trial jury at the Victoria Assizes yesterday evening. The jury retired with the case at 6:03 p.m. and returned at 6:55 p.m. with a verdict of guilty, and a strong recommendation to mercy. Plater was remanded by Mr. Justice Murphy for sentence at the close of the Assizes. The trial proceeded all day yesterday, the court going to the scene of the accident in the afternoon, and hearing address by counsel later. R. C. Love appeared for the accused, who was charged with manslaughter, and a lesser count of occasioning grievous bodily harm. A third charge, involving an allegation of furious driving, was abandoned by the prosecution and did not go to the jury.

William Stanley Newton, chief steward of a C.P.R. vessel on which Plater was employed, took the stand as a witness for the defence in the afternoon. He had asked Plater to drive him to Sidney on private business, he stated. Plater had driven carefully, and had not driven furiously at any time. Three men in the party of five in the Plater car had taken a few glasses of beer at Deep Cove Chalet, but the accused, Plater, and a young woman in the party had not entered the Chalet nor had they taken any part in the beer drinking, said witness.

Mr. Newton said he noticed the actual accident as a succession of two light bumps, and concluded the opposing car had driven on its way. Witness had remained at the scene, and when he discovered the Indian car had also been wrecked, he sought to give what aid he could, he said. Witness said he had added to the back seat of the Plater car and had not paid particular attention to the road.

GIVE CHARACTER EVIDENCE
Alfred E. G. Cornwell and A. M. Altman gave character evidence, both describing the accused as reliable and trustworthy and of good character.

In his charge to the jury, Mr. Justice Murphy explained the law, which makes it incumbent on anyone operating a dangerous thing to use ordinary and reasonable care to see that no harm results from its use. There was, he said, little distinction in this case between the first and second counts if carelessness had been shown to a degree such as would render the accused criminally responsible. Under the law the accused was entitled to the benefit of any reasonable doubt, and must be presumed innocent until proved otherwise. The jury was not to be concerned with the number of accidents on modern highways or any possible need of correction, but solely with the facts of the case.

There was, he said in dealing with the evidence, no evidence of drink on the part of the accused, and no allegation to that effect had been made by the prosecution against the accused or the young lady who had been a member of the party.

THREE IMPORTANT FACTORS ENTER INTO THE COST OF YOUR AUTOMOBILE

1. How much it costs to make the car
2. How much extra you pay the dealer
3. How much it costs for operation and up-keep

THE PURCHASE of an automobile involves a considerable amount of money and it should be carefully considered from all angles before a final decision is made.

The value of the car to you depends on the value built into it at the factory, how much extra you pay the dealer for distribution, selling, financing and accessories and what it will cost to operate and maintain the car after purchase. Each of these factors, as it relates to the Ford car, is frankly explained below.

Economy in production

THE FORD CAR is made economically because of the efficiency of Ford production methods. The money saved through this efficiency is put back into the car in improved quality of material and in greater care and accuracy in manufacturing. The constant effort is to eliminate waste and find ways to make each part better and better without increasing cost—frequently at lowered cost.

Because of Ford economies in large production and because the Ford organization operates on a low-profit margin, the price you pay for the car is much less than it would be under any other conditions. Yet it brings you many unusual features of construction and performance.

At least $75 extra value is represented alone by the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, the Rustless Steel, the four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, and the five steel-spoke wheels. The unusually large number of ball and roller bearings and the extensive use of fine steel forgings instead of castings or stampings are other features that reflect the high quality built into every part of the car. Throughout, it is a value far above the price you pay.

Low dealer charges

THE SAME PRINCIPLES of efficiency and economy that characterize the manufacture of the Ford car are applied also to distribution. Obviously it would do the public little good to save in production if these savings were sacrificed later in excessive costs of selling, financing and accessories.

The Ford dealer, therefore, operates on the same low-profit margin as the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, his discount or commission being the lowest of any automobile dealer. He does a good business because he makes a small profit on many sales instead of a large profit on fewer sales.

NOTE THESE LOW PRICES

Phaeton	$550

Three-window Fordor Sedan	$775

Tudor Sedan	$620
Sport Coupe	$655
Town Sedan	$835

(All prices f. o. b. East Windsor, Ontario. Bumpers, spare tire and taxes extra.)
Easy time payments can be arranged through your Ford dealer

The lower cost of selling, combined with the low charges for financing and accessories, means a direct saving of at least $50 to $75 to every purchaser of a Ford, in addition to the savings made possible by economies in manufacturing. The money you pay for a Ford goes into value in the car. It is not wasted in high dealer charges.

Low up-keep costs

IT IS IMPORTANT to remember that the cost of your automobile is not the first cost only, but the total cost after months and years of service. Here again there is a decided saving when you buy a Ford.

The cost of operation and up-keep is lower because of simplicity of design, the high quality of material, and the reduction of friction and wear through unusual accuracy in manufacturing and assembling. The reliability and longer life of the car contribute to its low depreciation per year of use.

The intelligent, painstaking service rendered by Ford dealers is under close factory supervision and is a considerable factor in the low up-keep cost of the Ford. All labor is billed at a flat rate and replacement parts are always available at low prices through 700 Ford dealers in every section of Canada.

In two, three or five years, depending on how much you drive, the saving in operating and maintaining a new Ford will amount to even more than the saving on the first cost of the car.

GIRL WINS BIG MUSIC CONTEST

Young English Composer Is Awarded 100 Guineas For Tone-poem

Canadian Press
London, April 4.—A girl of twenty-two years has just started the music world by beating composers of fame in a hundred guinea competition for a tone poem, open to all ex-students of the Royal Academy of Music. She is Miss Gladys Cohen, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Cohen, and cousin of Sir Robert Walley Cohen and the Dowager Lady Swaythling.

"My tone poem," she told an interviewer, "is called 'Rapunzel' and it is based on one of Grimm's Fairy Tales. I took between six and seven weeks, working sometimes seven hours a day, to compose it; although it takes only twelve minutes to play."

"Rapunzel" will probably have its first public performance by the British Broadcasting Corporation Symphony Orchestra, which has played previous compositions of hers under her baton. Miss Cohen has been composing music since she was eleven.

"No, I am not engaged," she said emphatically to a question, "nor am I likely to be. Music keeps me very busy."

Knox Ladies' Aid—The Ladies' Aid of the Knox Presbyterian Church held its monthly meeting yesterday afternoon, with the president, Mrs. Dempsey, in the chair. Reports were given of the farewell social to Rev. T. H. Davies, and of the young people's concert. Plans were made for new activities for the coming year, and Mrs. H. W. Curtis, the newly-appointed treasurer, acknowledged several donations. Mrs. Francis led the devotional period.

YOUR BABY and MINE

Mrs. Ellerre will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

DISCARD BABY'S BINDER AT SIX WEEKS

Baby arrives in the world and is immediately adorned with a navel dressing which simply must be kept in place. For this purpose, tradition has decreed a straight strip of unhemmed flannel or cotton flannel, which is wrapped twice around baby's abdomen and pinned or sewed securely under the arm. Our latest improvement on the straight band is a soft, knitted band which wraps around and ties at the side. All of these effects are called binders.

Whether a mother chooses to use it has one purpose and one only. That purpose is to hold the navel dressing in position until the stump of the cord heals and falls off. As this happens in from four to six weeks, sometimes sooner, the need for a binder ends when the navel is healed. After that it is just pure nuisance to baby. As the baby grows and becomes more active it becomes more of a trial, and on the older child it can usually be found in a tight string somewhere under his arm-pits or else, when loose, falls into a series of wrinkles which undoubtedly cause him untold annoyance.

HOT WEATHER REQUIRES FEW CLOTHES

The binder should be replaced by a knitted band, which has shoulder straps and tabs for the diaper. This looks exactly like a small skirt without sleeves, and is a most ideal garment for summer wear. If it is of light weight with the tiniest bit of wool mixed with its cotton or silk, it can be almost the sole garment baby needs to wear. This tiny light band and a diaper are enough for the house in hot weather, and with the addition of a cotton dress quite enough for outdoor wear. Any healthy, fat baby over six weeks of age will need no more garments than these during the middle of summer.

For these first cool days of spring, baby may have over the band a light weight, all cotton shirt with long sleeves and cotton stockings if the temperature is chilly.

Bands are far more comfortable for baby, if he only wears one garment, than a shirt. They fit down well over the abdomen, the diaper stays in place and the straps come close to the neck so that they do not slip over the shoulders.

The fear with which some mothers remove the binders from their big and growing babies is somewhat pathetic. They are sure that if they throw these uncomfortable supports away baby's back will collapse immediately, or he will have an attack of diarrhea. It is well to keep in mind that clothes usually have a purpose. The purpose of the binder is just as a navel dressing support for a short time, later there is none at all.

A child's back is in no way made stronger by this binder, nor is he liable to attacks of diarrhea because he isn't dressed in this strip of wool. Weak backs come from under-nourishment and rickets, not lack of clothes, and diarrhea from old or spoiled food. Bindings of wool about baby's abdomen have no power to prevent either one.

DEFENDS SOCIETY TOILERS

MISS HELENE HASKIN

Beautiful young debutante daughter of an aristocratic Virginia family, whose presence in a Broadway chorus has drawn fire from labor organizations because of the present unemployment situation, is pictured above. A recent letter from Frances Perkins of the N.Y. Industrial Commission urged her to set an example for other society toilers by giving up her job to give some working girl a chance. Miss Haskin, however, holds that all girls should work; that the theatre is not a job in the technical sense, affording a stepping stone to a future career—a career which necessitates even a society girl beginning at the bottom.

PURPLE STAR HOLD BANQUET

The regular meeting of Victoria Purple Star L.O.B.A. No. 104, was held in the Orange Hall, April 2, followed by the annual banquet. About thirty members and their husbands sat down to a supper under the capable co-operation of Mrs. Chambers, assisted by Mesdames Edmonds, Joyce, Townsend, Bragg, Townsend and Smith. The tables were tastefully decorated with daffodils and plum blossom and streamers in lodge colors.

The honored guests were: Mr. F. Greenhalgh, Chairman; Master J. Pearce, Master of the Black Knights; Mr. F. Rogers, Worthy Master of Sir Henry Carson Lodge; Mr. F. W. Mayfield, Worthy Master, Premier 1610; Mrs. E. Trowdale, Right Worshipful Provincial Grand Treasurer; Mrs. C. Keating, Worthy Mistress Queen of the Island Lodge; Mrs. Nicholls, Worthy Mistress Britannia Lodge; Mrs. Gilson, Mistress of Loy True Blues; Miss Ellis Baron, chairman of Juvenile Lodge.

Mrs. Wright, the Worthy Mistress of Purple Star, spoke a few words of welcome and proposed a toast to the King. Mrs. Munson gave a toast to the L.O.B.A., responded to by Mr. F. Greenhalgh. Mr. Pearce gave a toast to L.O.B.A., responded to by Mrs. E. Trowdale.

A splendid programme included solos by Mrs. B. Lefavre, soprano; Miss J. Russell, contralto, accompanied by Miss E. Clarke, piano selections by Miss M. Carr; dainty dances by Little Francis Merrifield. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

By SISTER MARY

During the mid-season when our appetites are beginning to crave fresh green vegetables, many housewives are faced by the problem of satisfying this longing without overstraining the pocketbook by buying the new but highly priced vegetables which are being shown in the markets.

Cabbage, crisp and fresh and inexpensive, is one of the vegetables that always can be depended upon. It not only satisfies the appetite, it also provides vitamins and minerals in abundance.

When cabbage is cooked, there are a few precautions which must be observed if it is to retain all its food value, stay white in color and be delicately flavored.

DON'T OVER-COOL CABBAGE

The first rule for cooking cabbage is to cook it only until tender. Finely shredded cabbage cooked in water to cover needs from ten to fifteen minutes. New cabbage cut into quarters should not be cooked longer than thirty-five minutes and twenty or twenty-five is better. Prolonged cooking develops a dark color and strong flavor.

The second rule is to cook cabbage in an uncovered utensil. This allows the odor to escape and prevents the defect of reheating it. Raw cabbage is not strong flavored. It is through the heat of cooking that certain compounds are released. Incorrect cooking methods develop unpleasant taste and odor from these substances.

Raw cabbage combines well with many fruits and vegetables in salads. Cabbage and grapefruit, cabbage and pineapple, cabbage and apple all are delicious combinations that are commonly used. Cabbage and orange with an orange dressing is unusual but equally good. A salad of shrimp and cabbage with threads of sweet green pepper is colorful and very good.

BRAISED CABBAGE

One small head cabbage, 1 cup diced celery, 1 cup boiling water, 4 tablespoons olive oil, 1-3 cup lemon juice, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, 6 peppercorns, 2 bay leaves, 1/2 teaspoon powdered thyme, 1/2 teaspoon white pepper. Cut cabbage crosswise in slices about one-inch thick. Let stand in cold salted water for fifteen minutes. Drain and put into a shallow saucepan with remaining ingredients. Cook fifteen or twenty minutes until tender. Do not cover while cooking.

YOUR CHILDREN

Children go through the thankless days of childhood doing just about everything wrong.

Thankless days, I say—because whatever they do is judged by an adult standard and of course criticized.

Billy doesn't wash behind his ears, not because he is a dirty boy, but because his mind is on something else—a new kite, a tramp he's going to take, the shanty the boys are building.

Fatty breaks a new cup, because she forgot and piled them up in three instead of two, and they fell over. Day dreams, forgetfulness, childhood. In the average boy's or girl's life there seems to be a reprimand waiting at every corner.

Not so good, this high-handed system of ours. Because what children need more than anything else in the world is encouragement.

Encourage carelessness? Praise their mistakes? Condone forgetfulness? Well, yes, and I'll tell you why. Under much of this seemingly slipshod conduct of youngsters, there is a potent power at work, an influence that is the very yeast of life and which later on, if it is not killed in the beginning, will be an enormous factor in the making of his success.

That power is imagination. That is all that day-dreams are. Day-dreams are accountable for forgetfulness, carelessness, laziness, all sorts of things that exasperate parents to the limit of endurance. Wool-gathering we are pleased to call it. And maybe it is. But wool brings a pretty penny and there is no need to despise it.

That's half of it. The other half is easier to see.

IT'S SOMETIMES COSTLY

When this yeast of imagination begins to froth over we get something more tangible to scold about. The experimental stage begins. Fatty wants to make fudge. She burns it. She makes it again and burns it again. Two good rakings over the coals. She quits fudge, but the cooking instinct is strong. One day she tries a pie when the family is out and she has the kitchen to herself. A mess—another failure, another scolding. After a few trials she's off the pie, too.

Cooking and artistic natures often go together. Chased out of the kitchen she turns to the attic. She invites in some chums and they turn out the trunks for a dress-up party. Dramatic instinct plain and simple. But they need pins, needles and help. But you're busy, you don't want the attic messed up anyway—you chase them out. Poor Fatty's imagination left an orphan again.

Billy is going to break your heart.

Don't Worry About Vitamins

Of course, you need vitamins—and you can get them all in this breakfast: A glass of orange juice for Vitamin C—then a bowl of Shredded Wheat with whole milk for Vitamins A, B, D and E. A delicious breakfast, easily and quickly prepared and costs but a few cents. If you like a hot dish, pour hot milk over the biscuits.

U.S. Clubs Beaten In East and West By Canadiens and Vancouver

THE SPORTS MIRROR

MAJOR LEAGUE baseball clubs will soon be off on the long grind toward this year's pennant. They start their league battles on April 15.

Let's look over the National League and see just how the clubs will shape up for this season's conflict. They apparently are refusing to play dead for Mr. Wright's champion Chicago Cubs, as along the front reinforcements are being moved into line in an attempt to beat out Joe McCarthy's boys.

The Pirates have added Gus Suhr, a young first baseman from the Pacific Coast League. Getting a new first baseman has been a Pittsburgh habit for years and years. But they say this Suhr will give the team of Waner and Pie Traynor the proper balance. The Cincinnati Reds seem to have done one of the biggest jobs in strengthening the attack by adding Harry Heilmann and Bob Meusel. The addition of Dan Hoey as first lieutenant also did not hurt the cause of the team from Cincinnati one bit.

Philadelphia are plenty strong and they have added pitching this year which may prove important. If Burt Shotton can get one or two pitchers out of a crop of nice-looking rookies, the team should give everybody trouble. Uncle Wilbert Robinson's Brooklyn Dodgers look like a million dollars. If Dazzy Vance comes through for Robbie this season, and Glenn Wright continues to throw as he has been in training quarters, the team is going to be mighty tough to beat.

Bill McKechnie is helping the Boston Braves a lot, trying them here and there, regardless of their stated positions, and he seems to have found a couple of players who will help him. If the Braves do not add a single new fence, which is one of their crying needs, the team will be augmented at least by the fact that McKechnie, who has seemed to follow him wherever he goes.

Gabby Street is the man who can get the utmost out of any bat, and the St. Louis Cardinals are reported to be for him 100 per cent. Sparky Adams should be an aid to the infield. Jim Lindsey, who plays a couple of games last fall, will not doubt win a lot of games for the Cards, that were lost by poor pitching last season.

Meanwhile the Cubs themselves have not been idle. Lester Bell has been placed at a weak spot at third base. A new outfielder, Dan Taylor, who batted .367 for Reading last year, should add a couple of base hits where most needed. Malcolm Moss and Lynn Nelson have been added to the pitching corps. Moss pitched for Louisville last year, while Nelson won fifteen and lost six for the champion Kansas City team last season.

The whole season appears to have been brushed up. The Cubs are sure to be given a battle all along the line. All that is lacking now is a statement from President John A. Heydler to the effect that he expects "a great race in the National League this year."

Wimbledon's tennis rules committee, which insisted on women wearing stockings in last year's tournament, may have to deal with the trouser problem this season. European women, judging from the summer sport styles shown in exclusive Paris houses, definitely approve of trouser suits. The common view is ankle length cotton pique trousers worn with a sleeveless, and sometimes backless, jersey or vest.

During the last couple of years night baseball has been attempted with varying success, but now it will be introduced into league competition. The Des Moines team of the Western League expects to play all its 1930 home games under artificial light, except its Sunday fixtures.

The floodlighting of the Des Moines team diamond has been brought about by Lee Keyser, president of the club, who last fall witnessed several night games of college and high school football. The lighting was planned by illuminating engineers of the General Electric Company and will comprise 146 floodlights mounted in batteries along six ninety-foot steel towers. Each projector has a 1,000-watt incandescent lamp.

Back of home plate and behind the grandstand will be two of the towers, one on each side of the plate. Each has a battery of thirteen projectors, one of which will be directed upon the plate while the other twelve will illuminate the diamond and the outfield area. Down the base lines and behind the bleachers will be two more towers, one on each side of the field, each having thirty-six projectors, and these will illuminate the area from the outfield to just short of the home plate. The last two towers, with twenty-four projectors each, will be placed beyond right and left field, respectively, and will cover the entire outer playing area. The altitude of the projectors will eliminate glare and the crescent-shaped beams of the towers will overcome shadows. The highest floodlights and the lowest home runs will be clearly illuminated for both players and spectators. General Electric engineers declare.

Night baseball was first played in an exhibition game between league teams in June, 1927, when two teams of the New England League staged a seven-inning game on the General Electric baseball diamond at Lynn, Mass. Eight thousand fans were present and were surprised at the game with which they could follow the play. Only two errors were made and no errors were made, and no errors were made.

Amazing Burst of Speed Gives Canadiens Two-goal Lead in First Period; Frenchmen Given Great Ovation at End of Game; Few Penalties Mark Thrilling Encounter; Boston Almost Had a Tie.

Montreal, April 4.—Montreal Canadiens to-day have possession of the coveted Stanley Cup, emblem of the professional hockey championship of the world. The "Flying Frenchmen" yesterday evening stood off a desperate Boston Bruin third-period drive and captured the cup, two games straight. They won the first game at Boston Tuesday by a 3-0 score and took yesterday evening's match 4-3.

Canadiens showed the stamina that marks real champions. Worn and bruised from stirring post-season play-off series with the New York Rangers and the Chicago Black Hawks, they flashed an irresistible attack for two periods and then held on gamely to the finish despite Boston's best attacking combination and the dying fight of the last year's titleholders.

Hornsby's Heel May Force Him Out For Months

Los Angeles, April 4.—Real concern over the condition of Rogers Hornsby's ailing heel was felt in the Chicago Cubs camp to-day as the club faced its final engagement with the Los Angeles Angels.

The rash dropped out of the line-up yesterday under doctor's orders, and it was feared he might be forced to have another operation which would keep him out of action until the middle of the season.

STABLE BOY AND HORSES LOSE LIVES

Disastrous Fire at Jefferson Park Causes Death of Young Exercise Boy

Francis Rock, War Hawk, Happy Jo and Another Thoroughbred Destroyed

New Orleans, April 4.—A boy was missing to-day and four race horses were dead as a result of a fire that destroyed barn No. 8 of the Jefferson Park race track here last night.

Jimmy "Red" Mulligan, an exercise boy for the Jack Bishop Stable, was asleep in the barn when the fire started. No one saw him escape and he could not be found.

The four horses that died in the fire, origin of which was not determined, were cut off by a wall of flame from attendants who labored valiantly to save them, and who did rescue six of the ten horses in the stable owned by A. Gall, Francis Rock, War Hawk and Happy Jo of the Bishop Stable were burned to death in their stalls.

Canadiens had not won the cup since the spring of 1924. Three men who were stars in that year were still with the team during the season that closed yesterday evening. They were Horrie Morenz, Aurel Joliat, stick-hander, par excellence, and Sylvio Mantha, the best puck-carrying defenseman in the League.

WASNIE IS HERO

The scoring summary of yesterday evening's game labels Nick Wasnie, who played as an amateur in Manitoba and Alberta, as the Canadiens' hero. This wing man, who played through much of the last part of the season with a cracked rib, and who during that time has been frequently jostled by the fans, scored a goal and an assist last evening after having performed the same feats at Boston on Tuesday.

The Canadiens opened up with an amazing burst of speed which swept them in on "Tiny" Thompson and netted two goals in the first period. Although always on a goal hunt their forwards were traveling at a clip which always brought them back in time to assist the defense when Boston broke away. McCaffery, formerly of Toronto and Pittsburgh, scored one of his few goals during this period. Accurately blazing in a pass from Pete Letue, Wasnie netted the next, on an almost identical play with Burke giving the pass.

During the second period Canadiens again held a wide margin, at times missing the Shore-Hitchman defense as if it did not exist. Thompson was called upon to perform spectacular goal-tending to hold the score down. Sylvio Mantha from Wasnie, and Morenz from Letue were Canadiens' scorers in this period, both goals coming from accurate passing when once inside the defense. In between these goals was sandwiched Eddie Shore's lone Canadian team and a high shot that just nestled under the cross bar.

DESPERATE DRIVE

Three goals down, Boston called upon all their reserve for a third period drive, a drive that nearly succeeded. They kept the puck almost continuously in Canadiens' territory and banded shots at almost every part of Hainsworth's anatomy. Ably backed by the rest of the team, Hainsworth stood up under the rally letting two goals, from Galbraith and Clapper, slide him.

Boston netted again in the last minute but interference cost them the tie. In a high-speed rush around a miniature flare-up occurred in which a blow or two was struck but it was forgotten when the final bell rang and the dejected titleholders hastened to congratulate their successors.

The game was cleanly played, the many penalties being chiefly for infractions of the anti-defense rule and for illegal checking with high sticks.

FIRST PERIOD

Joliat ran through for the first shot, a lone one that was cleared easily. Two Boston runs were bottled at the defense. Morenz riced in for his own shot, but Thompson was too quick for him. Joliat tricked the Boston defense to put Larochelle in perfect scoring position, but Thompson fell to smother the shot. Oliver and Barry made a great rush for Boston, but Joliat rushed back to clear. The second time came on after three minutes. Gagner taking his accustomed place on the wing.

Canadiens were holding Boston tight during the early stage of the game. Letue and Wasnie drove two hard shots at the Boston net. The regulars came back on. Letue cut Hinchman out of the play with a hard shot.

Scots Forwards Counted to Beat Varsity Scrum for Championship

Once again Victoria's forwards will be called upon to overwhelm a visiting rugby fifteen while the local backfield holds the opposing three-quarters when the Canadian Scottish, senior city champions, clash with Varsity, Vancouver titleholders, for provincial honors in the sudden death game at the Royal Athletic Park to-morrow. The visitors have a backfield that is considered in every respect as fast organized as the Victoria team in this department and should be equally as fast. However, in the scrum, they do not appear to be up to the standard of the Scots, who will play four of the best forwards seen in action here this season. The teams will be as follows:

Scots	Position	Varsity
Chuck Ruitan	Fullback	Howard Cleveland
Jack Oliver	Three-quarters	P. Barratt

SOFTBALLERS PLAY IN MAY

Will Start Westholme League With Three Games on First Monday of Month

Six teams will swing into action in the Westholme Softball League when that loop commences operations on May 3, it was announced yesterday evening at the annual meeting. The Times will play The Colonist at the Willows, while Victoria West takes on Moore & Whittington at Victoria West and Colwood Wood Company meets the Y.M.C.A. at Oak Bay Park.

This season will see the addition of Moore & Whittington's squad to the circuit which is expected to have as successful a year as it enjoyed in 1929. This team will replace Marigold.

Games will be played on Monday and Thursday evenings, starting at 7 o'clock. The season will be divided into two halves, the winner of the first meeting the winner of the second for the title. At the conclusion of the regular season, a knockout series will be staged.

During the meeting yesterday evening, Bill Spencer, manager of The Colonist basketball team, was re-elected to the presidency of the softball league, while other officers were named.

Penalty In First Period Is Break As Lions Win 3-1

Vancouver Scores Pair of Goals When Jack Pratt Is Penalized and Defeat Portland Bucks, Capturing Their Second Successive Pacific Coast Hockey League Championship; Percy Jackson Gives Great Exhibition in Final Period to Keep Lions Ahead; Lions Win Three Out of Four Games Played.

Portland, Ore., April 4.—It took the Vancouver Lions just a few fleeting seconds more than one full minute to take advantage of a glaring break and net two goals to defeat the Portland Buckaroos and tuck the 1930 Pacific Coast Hockey League championship away again. Although the final score favored the Lions, 3-1, in this the fourth and final contest of the play-off at the Coliseum yesterday evening, the fracas was won midway through the first period when Jack Pratt, big-Buck defence bulwark, was sentenced with a two-minute penalty.

Pratt skated to the penalty box and no sooner stepped through the gate than the lions opened with a vicious drive on Andy Aitkenhead, Portland goalie, that ended the puck twice. It started and finished so suddenly that the Buckaroos were completely at a loss as to what was taking place.

JERVA STARTS THINGS

Joe McGoldrick, Pratt's running mate at defence, saw a loose puck and gave it a ride down the ice. Three Lions pounced upon it with big Joe Jerva taking possession. Joe cut loose down the right side and shifted the rubber over to Sandy Sanderson. Sandy shot once at Andy and the stellar net defender made a beautiful save. But the puck came straight back and Sandy shoved it again, slipping it through the pipes.

The next goal came almost as the Buckaroos were lining up. A fourteen defence broke down and began pelting Andy from close in. The Portland defence was jammed. Jack Beattie slipped around, took a net pass from Sammy McAdam and beat Andy. Aitkenhead was jumping lively from one side of the net to the other stopping short shots but the one got away.

With Pratt out the Buckaroos' defence shuddered, was caught flat-footed and couldn't solve the attacking methods of the Lions. But a few seconds after the second goal Pratt came back. The scoring was stopped until the last period. The Bucks, down the pair of goals, started their offensive manoeuvres. The Lions were content to wait in home territory. The Vancouver defence at that broke up Buckaroos' drive, standing half way through the second period.

Before Portland could get in to shoot at Percy Jackson. This lasted through the second session.

PORTLAND SCORES

In the final canto, Robert Patrick Rowe's Bucks started a series of drives that worried the Lions. Halfway through the session Pratt stepped the puck and started down centre ice, passed it to Armstrong, who in turn saw Joe Jerva, who was in front of the net and shoved it to the midjet. Downside easily beat Jackson.

Vancouver, not content to hold the one-goal margin, immediately went out and gathered in another. With the Portland offence, with the exception of Pratt, down in Vancouver territory, big Joe Jerva broke loose with the puck. He outskated all opposition in a beautiful solo march, cut around Pratt's legs and shoved it to the net with a clear and close shot. With that two-goal lead, Percy Jackson, in the Lion net mouth, was unbeatable. Jackson saved sensationally and cleverly and although forced to jump, skate and kick, he cleared nicely, especially in the final period when the Bucks were driving and diving in with the rubber. It was up to Percy to save the game, he did, proving the nickname of "Stonewall" was no misnomer.

Aitkenhead was forced plenty in the first period, making fourteen saves to but eight for Jackson. In the next canto, honors were even with each stopping nine. Jackson was under the gun in the final period, holding off seventeen shots to but the exception of the Bucks were getting the shot but they didn't have the drive nor power that the Lions put on the rubber in sending it toward Aitkenhead.

This concluded the hockey season with Vancouver winning three games out of the four played.

OPEN TENNIS TOURNAMENTS ARE OPPOSED

Belgian Official Declares They Would Sound Death Knell
of Amateur Tennis

England Favors U.S. Proposals; French Officials
Have Little to Say

Paris, April 4.—Despite agitation, not much hope is held out for any International Tennis Federation
ban on open tournaments. The United States and England alone voted in favor of allowing amateurs to compete with professionals at the federation assembly which overwhelmingly rejected the U.S. proposals.

The twenty nations recorded in opposition are Germany, Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Chile,
Spain, France, Holland, Hungary, India,
Italy, Mexico, New Zealand, Poland,
South Africa, Switzerland, Yugoslavia
and Czechoslovakia.

France was conspicuous in opposition but the actual fight against the United States proposal was led by Chevalier Paul de Borman, president of the Belgian Tennis Federation. The Belgian president, a former Davis Cup player himself, argued that if the motion were put through "tennis matches would become spectacles analogous to prize fighting shows."

De Borman said the work of tennis professionals should be confined to teaching the game to amateurs. To permit open tennis tournaments would sound the death knell of amateur tennis, he asserted.

For the French, M. Pierre Gillou, captain of the French Davis Cup team,
confined himself to endorsing the views of De Borman.

The delegates of Australia and New Zealand, although previously instructed to vote for open championships, refrained from voting as a result of Chevalier's address.

Members of the Victoria and District Military Rifle Association will to-morrow afternoon with the opendition, and a large turnout of marksmen is expected.

AQUATIC STAR NEARLY DROWNS

Johnny Rae, New York, Pulled
From Water in Title Race
at Chicago

Chicago, April 4.—John Rae,
New York aquatic star, narrowly escaped drowning yesterday evening in the pool filled with some of the nation's best swimmers and lined with 300 spectators.

Rae was the New York Athletic Club entry in the 220-yard breast stroke of the national amateur championships being held at the Lake Shore Athletic Club. Before finishing the sweaty race, he was seized with a violent attack of cramps. He shouted for help, but the cheers of the spectators as the race neared its end drowned his cries.

The New York swimmer went down once without attracting the notice of the spectators engrossed in the finish.
He went down again, but this time,
he was seen by a spectator, Lawrence
M. Barr.

Unable to attract the attention of the other ten swimmers as the crowd cheered the new champion, Tom Blanchard, of Hollywood, Barr jumped in the pool fully clothed, pulled Rae to the edge and held him
until he was taken from the water.
Rae was semi-conscious and unable to walk, but was revived.

B.C. Titles Will Be Fought For On Victoria Courts

Provincial Championships Will Be Staged Here From July 28 to August 2; Will Draw Heavy Entry List
From Mainland and Upper Island, as Well as Large Number of Californians; Western Canada Championships Carded at Vancouver July 21 to 26.

Tennis players from all parts of the Mainland, Vancouver Island and California, besides the many local stars, will compete in the British Columbia championships to be held at Victoria from July 28 to August 2. Announcement of the date for the provincial championships was made this morning by E. J. H. Cardinal of Vancouver of the Pacific Northwest Lawn Tennis Association.

Besides the tournament at Victoria,
Mr. Cardinal also released the dates for all the major tournaments this summer in the Pacific Northwest, including the western Canada championships at Vancouver and the Washington
State and P.N.W. sectional at Seattle.

The tournament at Victoria will draw a large entry from the lower mainland, while all the touring California players will be entered.

Mr. Cardinal announced the following dates which had been given the official sanction of the P.N.W.L.T.A.:

June 30-July 15—Oregon State at Portland.

July 7-12—P.N.W. at Tacoma.

July 14-19—B.C. clay court at Jericho.

July 21-26—Western Canada championships at Vancouver.

July 28-Aug. 2—B.C. championships
at Victoria.

Aug. 3-9—Washington State and P.
N.W. sectional at Seattle.

Mr. Cardinal had intended to attend a special meeting of the B.C.N.T.A. at Seattle on Saturday, but received advice
last evening from President
H. S. Gray of Seattle that some differences of opinion as to dates had been adjusted.

For many years Vancouver has always followed the Washington State tourney, but this year the Seattle event has been moved back to August instead of the first week in July.

California players will be enabled to play at Portland, Tacoma, Jericho, Vancouver and Victoria in order. Jericho, therefore, comes well in the middle of the circuit and should benefit to a greater extent than ever before from the influx of players from the golden state.

RED BIRDS WILL MEET VANCOUVER

Island Senior "B" Hoop
Champions to Oppose
Witches in B.C. Final

Visitors Have Formidable
Club; Last Victoria Hope
For B.C. Title

Bill Erickson's Red Birds, Victoria's hope in the British Columbia senior "B" women's basketball championship, will make their bid for this title a week from to-night when they oppose the Vancouver Witches at the High School gymnasium. The locals have been practicing steadily and with a week left to finish off the rough edges, should be in great form for the final battle.

The local five won their way into the final round by defeating the Nanamo seniors in a home-and-home series, while the Witches advanced to their position by taking the open honors on the lower mainland and then winning from the interior representatives by default.

WILL CLOSE SEASON

With the basketball season drawing to a close, this game will serve as the wind-up of what has been a successful year. Although Victoria's teams have been eliminated in practically every other division, the Red Birds are counted on as one of the strongest local hopes.

Just who Alec Maine will start a week from to-night has not been decided, but it is believed that the same line-up which worked so well in the Island championships will be the one to take the floor. This will find Bertha Feden and Torie Rennie at forward with Jessie Edwards at centre.

Behing this front line of attack, Biddy Boyce and Dot Lea will play. Should any of this five falter at any period of the game, Maine will have Cathy Atherton, Mary Motion, Kay Weiburn and Mary Wilson to send in. With nine such strong players the locals will be able to travel at top speed throughout the game.

The officials and the preliminary game have not yet been decided, but the fans can rest assured that one good game will be put on as a curtain raiser.

The second game will see the Jordan River quintette, which knocked out James Island, and the "Y," which just managed to nose out the Doo-Dads last Wednesday in action.

The feature game will commence at 9:20 o'clock, when the Duncan team of Huskies will try to eliminate the C.P.S.

Dr. William Beebe, well-known marine biologist, recently brought from an expedition to Bermuda a silver hatchet fish, whose battery of violet lights point downward while its eyes look forever upward. A jet-black whale with a brilliant torch on its forehead also was brought back.

body check. Galbraith got the first penalty for tripping. Oliver followed for anti-defence infraction and Canadiens were two men up. Morenz was benched for high-sticking Barry.

Just as the Canadiens were closing in, but his pass to Lepine was intercepted by Barry. Lepine dashed in for a shot. Thompson saved, but MacCaffrey hammered in the rebound.

The teams were 5 to 4 in Canadiens' favor at the tally. Boston sent three men into Canadiens' end but Hainsworth took care of three shots. Morenz took his second penalty and Hainsworth barely managed to cover for a penalty to MacCaffrey for infraction of the anti-defence rule. Morenz, Joliat and S. Mantha sent in a pretty three-man passing rush which was blocked by Hainsworth.

Joliat and Wasmie were covered when Burke's pass out to host Thompson from ten feet out. Hainsworth was still off. The flying Frenchmen were going at their best, or anyone else's best and Boston could not hold them.

SECOND PERIOD

Owen, MacKay and Doc Carson started for Bruins. Canadiens were pressing from the whistle, aided by a penalty to MacCaffrey for infraction of the anti-defence rule. Morenz, Joliat and S. Mantha sent in a pretty three-man passing rush which was blocked by Hainsworth.

The Boston originals picked up Burke's pass out to host Thompson from ten feet out. Hainsworth was still off. The flying Frenchmen were going at their best, or anyone else's best and Boston could not hold them.

THE LINE-UPS

Boston—Thompson, Shore, Hitchman, Barry, Galbraith and Oliver. Boston subs—Welland, Clapper, Galt, Owen, Carson, MacKay, Conner and Lane.

Canadiens—Hainsworth, S. Mantha, Burke, Morenz, Larochelle and Joliat. Canadiens subs—Mondou, Wasmie, Ledue, Lepine, MacCaffrey, G. Mantha, G. Carson and Desrivieres.

long. Boston got within striking distance when Clapper just picked the corner on a pass from Welland.

Shore dropped Morenz and was penalized. Both teams were tiring and changing men every three minutes. Shore seemed to have a goal at his mercy but Hainsworth noticed the four-inch offset. Canadiens were finding the Boston defence much tighter, than during the first two periods.

On a terrific rush Welland and Owen knocked Hainsworth down and sat on him, but he held the puck safely out. Ledue tested Thompson with a hard, long shot. With the end drawing near and still a goal in arrears, Bruins were sending four men down the ice all the time.

The Canadiens began hustling the puck the length of the rink to ease the pressure.

Morenz eluded everyone but could not score. S. Mantha drew a penalty for deliberately roughing Doc Carson about the head, while he was off. Canadiens flicked away the puck at every opportunity. Ledue made a rush that carried him to Thompson's feet.

At the other end Boston spoiled Morenz's rush with a blue line off-side. Hainsworth dived at the right side to save from Welland. Lepine and Shore were benched for roughing.

Boston shot in the puck, but the referee ruled no goal for interference. A minor fight broke out among the players, but it was quickly over.

Canadiens' defence held on to the finish. The Canadiens were warmly congratulated by their opponents at the end of the match. The crowd went mad.

Boston—Thompson, Shore, Hitchman, Barry, Galbraith and Oliver. Boston subs—Welland, Clapper, Galt, Owen, Carson, MacKay, Conner and Lane.

Canadiens—Hainsworth, S. Mantha, Burke, Morenz, Larochelle and Joliat. Canadiens subs—Mondou, Wasmie, Ledue, Lepine, MacCaffrey, G. Mantha, G. Carson and Desrivieres.

Guards Back to Defend Goal

The "Y" defence that most likely began buzzing first in the brain of Dr. Walter E. Meany, Wisconsin mentor, quite a number of seasons back, when his Badgers were sure to be outjumped at centre, is again the subject before the house.

Here we have it clearly diagrammed. It is primarily a defensive formation. For that reason the guards stay back to defend the goal whatever happens. Even if the opposition gains the ball at centre tap it is difficult for them to score.

Most taps in this situation are to the side. Note one being placed there by the opposing centre. Both forwards rush to get it, as does the centre. Rather hard for the opposition to control the tap against such a formation, isn't it? So there you are. To-morrow let us look into defence.

AN OLD TIMER'S SCRAPBOOK

BY TIM McGRATH

Mexican Pete Everett Gave Jeff the Run-Around, But Jeff Finally Caught Him

YOU KNOW, Tim, I don't know what Mexican Pete Everett looked like, even though we were in the ring together. He had his back to me all the time.

Jim Jeffries was speaking. And about a fighter Spider Kelly and I trained for that same fight. We had lots of fun out of it.

Everett, a big fellow, had some reputation around the mining camps. And when, during an exhibition with Everett at Cripple Creek, Colo., Tom Sharkey's nose began to bleed in the high altitude, the story went out that Everett had Sharkey's nose almost broken.

Right away, Pete was matched with Jeff—then a promising scrapper. The fight drew $25,000, which was pretty good for a non-title fight back in '98. Spider and I jumped at the chance of training Pete.

DETROIT was tough looking. But that was all we found. After the first two days we quit taking it seriously. Pete Kennedy, his sparring partner, was knocking him down all the time.

The day before the fight Pete was low. His hands shook at times. He lost sleep. He developed a habit of talking about how hard Jeff hit. As a humanitarian measure, we gave him a few jolts of liquor. And in no time he got a butcher-knife, and wanted to go to Jeff's. Real men, Pete asserted, fight with knives, not gloves.

This outrageous feeling was gone when Pete went into the ring. As the song sounded he fled to a neutral corner, with his back turned. Jeff cuffed his back a few times, and Pete fled around the ring, with Jeff after him. Pete could run all right. It was the third round before Jeff could get close enough to him to put him down for the count.

Veteran Bowler Has Fine Total of 216.3 Topping Large Field

Art Harness of Jokers, First Half Winners, Noses Out Les Fox, Who Is Second With Average of 214.4; Al Falk Finishes Third; Brand of Bowling Much Better This Season With Eleven Maple Smashers With 200 Average or Better.

With the splendid average of 216.3 for sixty-six games, Art Harness, veteran bowler with the Jokers, winners of the first-half Fivepin League championship, heads the season's averages, according to the figures released yesterday evening by Art Porter, the league statistician. Harness beat out Les Fox of The Times, who finished in second place with 214.4, while Al Falk of the Elks was third with 214.3.

THREE CUP GAMES ARE SCHEDULED

Six First Division Clubs Engaged in Combination Cup Series To-morrow

West and Esquimalt Will Meet; Junior and Juvenile Teams Will Play

Three combination cup matches are on to-morrow's First Division football programme. At the Beacon Hill grounds, Victoria West and Esquimalt will tangle. Saanich Thistles and the Five C's will settle their differences at Victoria West Park, while the Jokers and Victoria City will play at the Central Park. All three matches will commence at 2:45 o'clock.

The Esquimalt-West match will no doubt provide the keenest competition. These clubs met two weeks ago in a Jackson Cup match, and the greenhorns won out by the odd goal in seven after a bitterly contested match. Fans expect to see just as keen a game to-morrow. The Wests need a win in order to keep their position at the top of the standings. In the other two matches the Thistles are favored to beat the C's, while the Jokers should not find much trouble winning over the city.

JUNIOR BUSY

In the Junior League three matches will be played with the following schedule: Oaklands vs. Victoria City, at Spencer's Park.

Royal Oak vs. James Island, at Hampton Road.

Esquimalt vs. Y.M.C.A., upper Beacon Hill.

All games will start at 2:45 o'clock. Oaklands juniors—Torrance, Anderson, Blackstock, Crawford, Dunn, Davis, Moore, Patterson, Davidson, Smith and Bosom.

Only two Juvenile League games will be played to-morrow, with the following teams meeting:

Sons of England vs. Thistles, at Central Park; referee, Swan.

Five C's vs. Langford, at Beacon Hill; referee, Lindgren. Both games will start at 1:30 o'clock.

Commencing at 1:30 o'clock the Victoria West Juniors Division 1 and Maple Leaf will play a friendly match at the Victoria West Park.

Some of the teams following: Jokers—Chalmers; McKennie, Campbell; Stillsbury, Banks, Martin; Dobbin; Stevens, McKenna, McBay and Carmichael. Reserves, Smith and Erskine.

Five C's—Farquhar; Harwood, Burgess; Reg. Shanks, McConnell, Moulson; Rob. Shanks, Nicol, Eden Quinlan, Rundock and Lincoln. Reserve, H. Cockin.

Victoria West—Hetherington; Lloyd, Thompson; Bode, Peden, Stewart; Young, Milligan, Robinson, Peers and Mulcahy.

Esquimalt—DeCosta; Joe Watt, W. DeCosta; Smith, R. Stewart, Hay, Foster, Scott, Stewart, John Watt, Westland and Roberts.

Victoria City Juniors—Hoof; Moody, Gelling; Smith, Stoffer, Robson; Haines, Sheret, Wright, Gibson and McKellan. Reserve, Hogan; Price, Harper; Viggers; Joe Crowe, Jim Crowe; Phillips, Essler, King, Minnie and Ewing.

WINS BY KNOCKOUT

Denver, Col., April 4.—Mickey Cohen, Denver lightweight, knocked out Buster Branson, Salt Lake City, in the sixth round of a scheduled ten-round fight, at a disabled veterans' fight show here yesterday evening. Cohen led all the way and had the Salt Lake boy groggy at the going in the fifth. He finished him with a short right cross to the jaw after forty seconds of fighting in the sixth.

EXHIBITION BASEBALL

At Charlotte, N.C.: R. H. E. Philadelphia; Americans, 4 6 2 3. Charlotte; Groves, Rommel and Perkins; Wyal, Petty, Harris, Wells and Luebbe, Katman and Watts.

At St. Louis, Mo.: R. H. E. St. Louis, Americans, 1 5 0 0. Memphis; Crowder and Ferrell; Beck and Berger, Campbell.

At Los Angeles: R. H. E. Chicago, Nationals, 3 11 1 0. Los Angeles; Root and Schulte; Barfoot and Bell.

At San Jose, Cal.: R. H. E. Sacramento; Nationals, 1 5 0 0. Portland; Nationals, 1 5 0 0.

Batteries—Bryan, Gillick and Koehler; Fossel, Bloomer and Woods.

Harness set the pace for the league throughout the entire season and towards the end of the schedule, engaged in a tight race with Fox, Falk and Art Porter for the honors. However, the other three slipped in the last few games and the veteran won out.

Bowling in the Fivepin League has been far better this year than last as is shown by the fact that eleven bowlers finished with an average of 200 or better. Others with 200 averages or better, outside of the three leaders follow: N. Morris, J. Huxtable, Art Porter, J. McLennan, R. Laughton, D. Donaldson, J. Quinn, F. Salaway and C. Chislett.

Four Liners To-morrow Will Keep Docks Busy

Empress of Canada and Yokohama Maru Due Early in Morning From Orient Ports

President Madison and Shidzuoka Maru Will Sail For Far East in Afternoon

The delayed arrival of the liner Empress of Canada will bring four deep-sea liners to the Rithet piers to-morrow. Two of the ships will be inbound and two outbound. The inbound liners will dock during the morning, while the other two will be in port during the afternoon.

Latest wireless advice from Capt. Samuel Robinson, master of the Empress of Canada, states that she will arrive at the William Head quarantine station to-morrow morning at 5 o'clock from ports in China, Japan and the Philippine Islands. The local agents expect her alongside the Rithet piers about 6.45 o'clock. There are nearly 300 passengers aboard the flagship this voyage, several of whom will leave the ship here. One hundred and forty-four passengers are in the first cabin, twenty-two in second cabin, twenty-four in third cabin and 470 in steerage. The liner also has a good general cargo, including a valuable parcel of raw silk.

HERE ABOUT SAME TIME

The other inbound liner to-morrow morning is the Yokohama Maru of the N.Y.K. which is expected off Bide Rocks at daybreak from the Orient. She will dock at the Rithet piers about the same time as the Empress of Canada. The Japanese liner is bringing in eighty-four passengers, nine of them for this port. Twenty are in the first class and the remainder in steerage. The ship also has 155 tons of general cargo, including forty-seven bales of raw silk, for discharge at Victoria. The Yokohama Maru is on her last inbound voyage before being commissioned on another service to make way for the three new motor liners now building in Japan for the Orient-Victoria-Seattle service.

OUTBOUND IN AFTERNOON

The outbound liners to-morrow afternoon are the President Madison of the American Mail line and the Shidzuoka Maru of the N.Y.K. sister ship to the Yokohama Maru. Waterfront officials at Victoria will bid formal farewell to the Shidzuoka Maru to-morrow as it will be her last sailing from this port.

Girls' Hats for Easter

Children's Hats are following the trend of the grown-up styles in that the styles are more feminine or in the case of children we would say more charmingly girlish.
We are glad to see the flowers are daintily placed on some of these hats for the little maidens' love flowers, although they can also appreciate the soft, neutral with which the perfectly plain little straw hats are manipulated.
So every hat will delight some little girl. Prices

IN MEMORIAM
 PORTIOUS—In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Howard Portious, who passed away April 4, 1929.

One year has passed since that day when one we loved was called away. God took him home. It was His will. Forgive him, No, we never will. The boy was great, the shock severe. We have thought the end was near. It is hard to think he went without farewell. God help us to be reconciled to our loss.
 —In loving memory of our Father, Mother, Sister and Brothers.

The other students, Jean Craig of Tofino School, Saanich, and Christina Strang of Ladysmith High, received honorable mention from the judges.

For this essay competition, the schools of British Columbia are divided into five districts. The one including Victoria embraces the entire Island. Each year the contests are held and the judges award prizes for the best essays submitted in the High School and Grade School divisions of each district. No attempt is made to determine the best in the province.

The subject of the stories relate to fire prevention in its various phases and what is being done to combat the fire menace in British Columbia.

NEW MAGAZINE TO BE CREATED

A school magazine will be published by the Department of Education, the first issue being distributed to all schools in the Province shortly after the Fall term opens in September. The magazine will be issued annually at intervals of two months, and will provide special material for the junior intermediate and senior grades. The edition will be of 100,000 copies, and the magazine is expected to enter every home in British Columbia. Hon. Joshua Hinchcliffe, Minister of Education, explained yesterday that the magazine will be an improvement upon similar publications distributed by the educational authorities of New Zealand and the Australian states, where the schools magazines have proven important aids in education.

NEW DIVISION

OF REALTORS' BOARD URGED

May Invite Property Owners of City to Join With Organization

Would Be Further Protection For Property, Speaker, States

Formation of a property owners' division of the Real Estate Board of Victoria is now under consideration by the board.

At to-day's luncheon meeting in Spencer's private dining-room, Fred Landsberg told of reasons for the forming of such a group. The Real Estate Board, he said, had continually interfered in matters affecting property in the city. Matters of taxation, zoning legislation of various sorts and other items pertaining to real estate had been taken up and beneficial results obtained in some cases. The board had a perfect right to see how property owners to join and strengthen its hand in the future. He moved the board approve the idea and refer it to the executive committee for consideration.

H. C. Holmes seconded the resolution, declaring that the more property was protected the more valuable it became, thus enhancing it as a liquid asset. He referred to success which had been gained with a property owners' section in Portland, Oregon.

The motion was unanimously passed.

CITY'S PROMISE

Hubert Lethaby, secretary, reported on the activities of the board in regard to the zoning question. The zoning board of the city had promised to meet the realtors on the subject of submitting any recommendations to the City Council, he said.

Following up a recent address by R. F. Brady, municipal clerk of Oak Bay, on the topic of taxation, the board decided to take no action for remedial measures at the present time.

FRAUD HEARING

IS POSTPONED

Hearing of Stanley E. Wallis and W. N. Tompkins on charges of conspiracy was postponed in the City Police Court this morning when counsel agreed to a remand until next Friday.

S. Henderson appears for the defence and T. L. Harrison for the prosecution. The charges were one of a number laid in connection with alleged irregular financial dealings of Wallis, manager of the Consolidated Motors (Victoria) Limited.

FACES SERIOUS THEFT CHARGE

Caretaker Seeks to Retain Boarder's Cheque For Room Rent; Taken to Court

Opening of a letter belonging to a boarder and retention of a pension cheque for payment of room rent resulted in the appearance in the City Police Court this morning of Joseph Cook, caretaker of the Broadway Rooms, on a charge of theft.

Robert Lieper, the boarder, charged that Cook had stolen the pension cheque from the letter and then told him to endorse it. This he had refused to do and had asked for the cheque. Cook, however, would not turn it over to him. Lieper had threatened the other with police court proceedings but Cook still refused to give it to him.

Lieper admitted opening the letter and keeping the cheque. Lieper, he said, owed several weeks rent for his room and on previous occasions had turned over the pension cheque, which totaled $7.50, as payment. It was the first time he himself had opened the pension letter, however.

J. F. Wallis, who appeared for the accused, asked the court to dismiss the charge of theft and that in return the money would have been turned over to the landlord of the room. Furthermore, the unendorsed cheque was valueless to the accused.

The seriousness of the offense was pointed out by Magistrate George Jay. The Criminal Code a penalty of not less than three years imprisonment was provided for theft from the mail. He adjourned the case until to-morrow for consideration.

Ven. G. F. Davidson Still Unconscious

Inquiry at St. Joseph's Hospital this morning elicited the information that Archdeacon Davidson of Regina, who was taken to the institution on Wednesday following a seizure, is still unconscious and his condition unchanged.

NO ACTION ON

WATER ISSUE IN ESQUIMALT

Forty Cents Per Front Foot Installation Levy to Continue, Delegation Told

City, Unable to Assess Rate-payers of District, Has No Way Out

No action will be taken by the Victoria waterworks in the Esquimalt frontage levy issue, Reeve James Elrick and Municipal Engineer H. F. Bourne were told by Commissioner F. M. Preston when they waited upon him yesterday. The municipal delegates were informed that since the city was unable to assess Esquimalt, no other arrangement could be made by the waterworks.

The commissioner also pointed out that while the residents of Esquimalt appeared to be facing a heavier expenditure than that of any other municipality, owing to the fact that they were required to pay a 40 cent per front foot installation levy, they were in reality getting off more lightly than the other districts. Victoria city, he pointed out, raised an annual tax of 2 cents a front foot for maintenance. Oak Bay charged 3 cents on the same ratio and Saanich charged the tax on a sliding scale from cents down.

The issue was brought up by R. Stephens, a ratepayer of Esquimalt, who was required to pay the 40 cent front foot initial levy. Mr. Stephens maintained that he had paid a similar figure on a house he had previously built in Esquimalt and saw no reason why he should be asked for the extra amount on changing his residence.

ROGER BERRY IS WAGING PENSION FIGHT IN OTTAWA

Local Man, Who Believes He Has Been Discriminated Against, Still Battling

Goes to Federal Capital in Partial Plaster Cast; Interesting Case

Roger Berry, who has been waging a fight for several years against what he considers unfair treatment in regard to his war disabilities, is now in Ottawa, having gone there to personally conduct his case. Berry left without informing his solicitor, R. J. Sinnott, or G. H. Sedgewick, soldier's advocate, and first word that he was in Ottawa was conveyed when D. B. Plunkett, M.P., Victoria, announced yesterday before the special parliamentary committee on returned soldiers' problems, that one of his constituents had arrived there and desired to present his grievances to the committee.

Berry has plenty of grievances and he has spent much time and gone to considerable trouble to build up his case. He has made special efforts to be in a position to refute what he claims to be disparaging against himself and his family. Berry has set out to have things rectified, and refuses to be balked by any difficulties that are strewn in his path. At present he is wearing a partial plaster cast.

WINS TWO APPEALS
Berry is claimed about fifteen per cent disabled, but he contends that he has a greater incapacity than the pension board is willing to award. His activities have resulted in his victory in one appeal, which switched his classification from that of "neurotic" to a physical trouble. He next sought to have his pension made retroactive, and although he won this point the settlement was not satisfactory to him. In a final effort to have things adjusted to his satisfaction Berry is now in Ottawa.

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Ont., April 4.—The functions of the special parliamentary committee on returned soldiers' problems do not extend to hearing individual grievances of ex-service men, declared Major C. G. Power, Liberal, Quebec South, the chairman, yesterday.

The committee did not arrogate to itself the duties of an appeal court, for it would be a cruel farce, he said, to intimate to returned soldiers that the committee could consider cases when, as a matter of fact, it enjoys no such authority. This observation was inspired by the request from D. B. Plunkett, (Conservative, Victoria, who said that a constituent of his had reached Ottawa and desired to present his grievances to the committee.

STATED ON FILE
H. B. Ashhead, Labor, Calgary East, declared he had seen the man who complained that his appeal had been rejected for political reasons, and that the political aspect was stated on his file. He suggested that one of the soldiers' service bureaus take up the matter.

"The Legion," interjected Lieut.-Col. L. A. Lafleche, D.S.O., president of that body, "does not deal in politics." The Legion had already taken up this case, Colonel Lafleche declared, but not any political angle of it.

The committee decided to refer the man to a sub-committee.

Respecting the summoning of the court, at its discretion, of medical consultants as assessors in pension cases, the Legion felt that it should be the duty of the court in all cases to call such assessors.

LOAN SOCIETY WINS ACTION

B.C. Appeal Court Dismisses Suit For Cancellation of Contract

Vancouver, April 4.—Sustaining a Supreme Court judgment of Mr. Justice Fisher, the Court of Appeal dismissed an appeal of R. P. Baker, broker, who sued the Guaranty Savings and Loan Association, Vancouver, for cancellation of a $70,000 savings contract.

Baker had paid $1,500 under the contract and was suing a rescission on the ground of misrepresentation alleging that the contract, as entered into by the association, was not that which he had been led to believe that he was signing.

The appeal was heard by Justices Martin, Gallaher and McPhillips.

WANTED MONEY RETURNED
Baker had applied on November 28, 1927, for a savings certificate which was payable at the rate of $400 a month in 114 months. After paying $1,500 the plaintiff claimed cancellation and return of his money.

The trial judge decided that there had been no material misrepresentation by the defendant to induce Baker to enter into the contract. The plaintiff's recollection was wrong, in his Lordship's opinion, when he thought that he had the right to withdraw all his funds, except $300 from his account.

The contract provided for withdrawal after a year lapsed of all moneys down to two per cent of the matured value of the contract.

Mr. Justice Fisher rectified the contract to provide for installment shares.

Scotch Iron Moulder Carries Art Honors

Glasgow, April 4.—A Scottish iron moulder has started Glasgow art circles by running away with the honors at the Socialist art exhibition with his plaster statue called "The Runner," which he made in spare time. John Leighton, the laborer-sculptor, has spent all his life moulding iron and never attended an art school. The idea for his statue was suggested by a clipping from a newspaper and he began working it out in his back yard. It took two years to finish it.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE APRIL 4 (By B.C. Bond Corporation Limited)

an average common share, against $2.32 a share in the preceding fiscal year. Plan for acquisition by Stone & Webster Inc. of Engineers Public Service Company is declared operative.

NO WIDE OPEN BREAK
New York, April 4.—Wall Street Mirror today issued the following to its clients:

"This market is not out of the woods yet. In other words, it is entitled to further reaction before it can be said to have corrected any technical weakness. The market has been subjected to a big volume of profit-taking and considerable hammering by the bear party the past two days, but has given ground stubbornly."

"Of course, there are several issues which are moving under special considerations which could result in pressure in the general list, but stocks should be selling lower before any thought is given to replacing sold-out lines or making new commitments."

"Those who are looking for a wide-open break in the market are likely to be fooled at this time, because there are too many things bound up in this market to allow for any such development."

"The best opinion is that stocks are entitled to a technical corrective movement and that is all that will be witnessed."

SMELTERS PROFITS LOWER FOR YEAR

While the net operating revenue of Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada Limited, operating the Trail, B.C. Smelter, and British Columbia Mining Properties for the fiscal year ended December 31, 1929, showed a slight increase over the previous year, the net profits showed a decrease.

This statement presents a comparison in view of the numerous fluctuations in the metal markets over the corresponding period.

The share earnings of Smelters show a drop from the 1928 figure of $1.02, when they are figured at $1.73. The 1927 share earnings were $2.09. The profit and loss balance for the year shows its customary increase.

The sale of smelter products and other materials during the year showed an increase in value over the previous twelve-month period, and the figure of $30,200,045 almost equaled the total of 1927. The net operating revenue for the year is shown at $12,160,052, as against $12,014,870 in 1928.

The total income of $13,030,055 shows an increase from $12,800,792 reported in 1928, but down from $15,383,383 in 1927. Net profits for the year of $8,848,004 are down from $9,162,829 as shown in 1928 and $11,750,968 reported in 1927.

Dividend disbursements accounted for $6,573,750, a slight increase over 1928, leaving a surplus of $2,274,254, which compares with $2,816,235 for the previous year.

The working capital position of the company is slightly poorer than that shown in the 1928 report. The excess of current assets over current liabilities for the 1929 fiscal year was $18,655,844. The working capital of Smelters in 1928 was $19,281,453 and $17,617,582 in 1927.

Auto Production Figures For March

New York, April 4.—Automobile production in United States and Canada in March totaled 400,000 cars and trucks, compared with 389,510 in February and 626,976 in March, 1929.

WHITNEY LETTER

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

New York, April 4.—Whitney of Wall Street Financial Bureau says to-day:

VERY GOOD

"It is not so much what the market did yesterday which recorded the session as satisfactory from the bull standpoint, as what it did not do, as there was no considerable more reaction than was recorded on Wednesday before the limits of a normal technical reaction would have been reached."

"Brokers' advice were fairly unanimous to either take profits in anticipation of additional reaction or the word of caution was given with so much emphasis as to amount to the same thing, with the result that profit-taking was indulged in on a very liberal scale."

"This market absorbed during two successive selling movements, and then closed with a moderate gain for the day."

"Expect to-day's market to take its cue from the broker's loan statement to this extent, that if this item shows a substantial increase, we will have a reactionary morning and the advance resumed in the afternoon, while in the event of a moderate increase in the loan statement there is to be expected a relatively firm opening, and then further advance during the day. In any event, adhere to the opinion that the trend of the market is still up and that reaction worthy of the name, if it is to develop, will develop at a later date and from a higher level of consolidation."

"Against profit taking, and on the other hand, to use moderate reaction for the purchase of stocks."

COMMENT
"The favorite short sale for those looking for reaction as well as the favorite for those betting against the market is U.S. Steel, with operations at eighty-three per cent. of capacity, a backlog of the largest unshipped tonnage since 1926, and what is more important, conditions improving, see no reason for doing anything other than buying Steel, and suggest that that be done on each of those dips which make the stock available below 195."

"To those who have followed the earlier buying recommendations in General Electric, would simply say that these new recommendations for the issue do not provide satisfactory profit-taking prices. I believe the stock is headed substantially higher."

"American Radiator has not advanced, but it is noticeable that it has not reacted in the past two days of the actual advance in the stock market. I believe accumulation has been virtually completed in these two sessions, and that the actual advance in the stock market has been witnessed in Associated Dry Goods."

"Look for higher in the utilities and would continue to use dips below 125 for the purchase of Consolidated Gas."

Old Bulls Behind Radio Stock Again

New York, April 4.—The performance of Radio Corporation, according to The N.Y. American to-day, confirms evidence of the powerful sponsorship, generally attributed to the same interests who were behind the enormous rise of the stock to its recent high. It is declared that an enormous short interest still exists in the stock, despite the belief that substantial short covering has been taking place.

Warners to Get Brunswick Radio And Phonographs
New York, April 4.—Official announcement expected soon of the sale of the radio, phonograph and record divisions of Brunswick-Balke to Warner Bros.

Warner Bros. is also expected to take over the Brunswick plants at Muskegon and Dubuque. Brunswick will retain its bowling alley and billiard table manufacturing business.

NASH MOTOR SHIPMENTS

New York, April 4.—Nash Motors in March shipped 7,023 cars, compared with 5,175 in February and 15,384 in March, 1929.

The Woman Who Got a Divorce Because Her Husband Expected Her to Fry Eggs on Ice
Wanted Much of a Wife, for Every Wife Has to Perform Much More Difficult Tricks Every Day of the Week With the Household Budget

A CHICAGO woman has asked for a divorce from her husband because he expected her to fry eggs on ice. It appears that the gentleman went to a show where a juggler performed this feat and this so impressed him that he demanded that his wife cut down the ice bill by duplicating it. Whereupon, remarking that she was no magician, she threw up her hands and quit.

Haught! I poor sport. For if every woman whose husband expects her to be a miracle worker should bear it to the divorce courts no one would be left behind to keep the home fires burning. Practically every man takes it as a matter of course that his wife shall do tricks of legerdemain that make keeping seven plates up in the air, or pulling white rabbits out of a silk hat, or frying eggs on ice, seem mere child's play. And the curious part of it all is that most wives are good actors who do, somehow, pull off a satisfactory show.

Every man expects his wife to possess some magic by which she can be at one and the same time a kitchen utensil and a perfect creature, by which she can be a vamp and old, reliable; by which she can be a clinging vine and the support of the family; by which she can rock the cradle with one foot and step out with him with the other; by which she can be a dime-nurse and make a million-dollar display.

Every man expects his wife to be a witch who can turn herself in the twinkling of an eye into a chef, or an expert purchasing agent, or a scrubber, or a seamstress, or a trained nurse, or a doctor, or a baby-trader, or a sleuth who can locate a missing paper or a lost collar button, or a hostess, or a social secretary, or a dancing partner, or an entertainer, or a taxi driver, or a clairvoyant, or a press agent, or a savings bank, or a standing excuse, or a bombproof alibi for everything he does or leaves undone. Now doesn't he?

So why all this bother about a man expecting his wife to fry eggs on ice? It is a small matter compared with the big medicine a man expects his wife to make when he demands that she keep young and beautiful, no matter how hard she has to work, no matter how many children she bears, no matter how many birthdays she celebrates. As the years go by and the cares and anxieties and burdens of life come to him, crowfoot gather around the man's eyes and wrinkles burrow themselves in his face, and he grows baldheaded and puffy, but it never occurs to him that his wife will cease to love him because he has lost his boyish figure and no longer looks as he did when he was a gay bridegroom.

But he feels that his wife should use her rabbit's foot and conjure time into passing her by so that she may remain a perpetual flapper, and when mother the black art mer all the arts of the beauty shop keep her from growing stout and grizzle-headed and middle-aged, he only too often walks out that he is "disappointed" in her and wants to swap her off for a new wife.

And what a simple stunt in magic is taking a couple of dozen eggs out of one's ears, or fishing live pigs out of one's sleeves, compared to running a house on ice, yet there is a dog-eat-dog fight that thousands of husbands expect their wives to pull off without even any previous practice in materializing dollars out of nothingness.

Husband wants to live in a nice house in a good neighborhood. He wants plenty of heat and light. He wants the best food. He wants his children to be well dressed. He wants his wife to look stunning when they go out. He wants to ride around in a good car. But he doesn't want to pay the price for the upkeep of a family, and when the bills come in he raves like a mad man over them and visits his wrath at the high cost of living on his unfortunate wife.

He feels that she should have been able to make a few passes at the rent bill and the grocery bill and the butcher bill that would have made them vanish and become mere atmosphere, as they say at Hollywood, and that if she had done her duty as a wife she would have laid a spell on the children's shoes that would have kept them from wearing out, and caused plumage to grow upon their backs as a chicken sprouts pin feathers.

And what else except believing that women have some occult power that enables them to change into anything that a husband may desire makes men marry as they do? Every day we see poor young men picking out extravagant, clothes-crazy girls for wives; intelligent, highly educated men marrying dumb Dianas who never read a sixth best seller; serious-minded men choosing gay little butterflies for life companions. And later on we see these same men miserable and bewildered, wondering what's the matter, and why the miracle didn't happen that would have converted a spender into a saver, a nitwit into a highbrow and a jizzer into an Alice-al-by-the-fire.

And it is because men believe that all women are mind readers that explains why so many husbands treat their wives as they do. From the star to the grave they never say one word of tenderness, or pay them a compliment, or give them a kiss that isn't an insult. It is so cold and fishy. Yet they expect their wives somehow to divine that they still love them, and that under the ice the volcano is still raging.

So, there is nothing remarkable in the man expecting his wife to fry eggs on ice. The wonder is she didn't do it. Most wives would have just grabbed a bank of ice in one hand and an egg in the other and gone to it.

TOBY LEITCH AS ROUGH ARIZONAN IN VARIETY PLAY

The thrill of a big financial panic is depicted in the comedy-drama, "The Dollar Mark—The Wall Street Crash," which the Toby Leitch Players present at the Variety Theatre this week.

The plot of this absorbing play is essentially exciting, but there is plenty of laughter, as well. Raymond Toby Leitch is starred as Toby Potter from Arizona, son of the great open spaces, but more than a match for the brains of Wall Street financiers.
